British Premier Calls For Order

Chamberlain Sees Hitler; Urges No Attacks in Czechs' Land Talk Tomorrow

GODESBERG, Germany (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, after a conference of more than three hours with Chancellor Hitler, tonight issued an appeal to the Fuehrer and other parties concerned "to assist in maintaining a state of orderliness" in Czechoslovakia.

A communique issued at the Prime Minister's headquarters after he had returned from his talk with Hitler read:

"The Prime Minister had a conversation with the German Fuehrer, beginning at 4 p.m. and continuing unti' shortly after 7 p.m. (10 a.m., P.S.T.).

"It is intended to resume the conversation tomorrow morning.

"In the meantime, the first essential in the opinion of the Prime Minister is that there should be a determination on the part of all parties and on the part of all concerned to insure that local conditions in Czechoslovakia are such as not in any way to interfere with the progress of the conversations.

"The Prime Minister appeals most earnestly, therefore, to everybody to assist in maintaining a state of orderliness and to refrain from action of any kind that would be likely to lead to incidents."

MAP CHANGES

Chancellor Hitler and Mr. Chamberlain discussed changes in the map of Europe in their talk and parted with promises to continue their discussion tomorrow.

Mr. Chamberlain flew from London to Cologne, motored to Petersberg and then ferried across the Rhine for his conference with Hitler.

Outside the hotel a throng totaling several thousands stood for hours waiting with keenest anticipation some disclosure of the results of the fateful meeting.

When the Prime Minister arrived at the hotel he was received at the entrance by Hitler himself.

A black-uniformed drum corps beat a salute and blackshirt Elite Guards presented arms with bayonets fixed as Mr. Chamberlain left his hotel for the meeting.

NAZI SALUTES

Nazi salutes greeted him even as he descended the hotel's grand stairway. There officials, guest and uniformed guards shouted "Heil" with outstretched arms.

Mr. Chamberlain smiled warmly and hurried down a long length of carpet to a waiting open automobile. Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, followed behind him, chewing his cigar.

While no official details of the conversations were given out there were reports Hitler might raise his price for peace.

Visits of Hungarian and Polish statesmen with Hitler at Obersalzberg Tuesday led to the belief he might insist that the minorities of those two countries in Czechoslovakia fare as well as the Sudeten Germans.

Mr. Chamberlain also was said to have a list of demands.

REPORTED DEMANDS

LONDON—As Premier Chamberlain left here today for Godesberg he was reported to carry these urgent demands:

1. Immediate demobilization of German army reservists.

2. German co-operation in a new non-agression agreement among Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy.

3. Creation of an international commission to outline the new Czeshoslovak frontiers and to transfer populations.

4. A joint Anglo-French appeal for order on the frontiers of Czechoslovakia.

4. Termination of the anti-Czech press campaign by German papers.

6. Economic and military guarantees for a new Czech state.

It generally was believed that only by such wide and important concessions from Hitler could Mr. Chamberlain hope to quell opposition at home to the Czech surrender effected by the British and French governments.

French Cabinet Revolt Is Seen

Nine Ministers Protesting Daladier's Czechoslovakia Moves

By TAYLOR HENRY
Associated Press Foreign Staff

PARIS, France — Premier Edouard Daladier was faced today with a threatened revolt in his cabinet against the French-British peace plan which won from Czechoslovakia an agreement to surrender Sudetenland to Germany.

Rapid developments last night caused some observers to believe the cabinet might break up at any moment as a result of the pressure Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet exerted on France's central European ally.

The names of nine of the 18 cabinet members were mentioned as more or less resolved to take action in protest. They were:

Paul Reynaud, Minister of Justice; Georges Mandell, Minister of Colonies; Jean Zay, Minister of Education; Cesar Campinchi, Minister of Navy; Louis de Chappedelaine, Minister of Merchant Marine; Auguste Champetiere de Ribes, Minister of Pensions; Henri Queuille, Minister of Agriculture; Raymond Patenotre, Minister of National Economy and Production, and Marc Rucart, Minister of Public Health.

INVASION POSSIBILITY

The consent of these ministers was said to have been won reluctantly to the "unanimous" cabinet approval of the French-British plan on the condition that pressure brought to bear on Czechoslovakia would not include a threat to stand aside and watch the country invaded by Germany.

Some political sources said they considered Daladier violated that promise yesterday by sending such a threat to Prague in the form of a virtual ultimatum.

One thing which might head off a cabinet break-up was a growing conviction among the French that all was not going to be smooth sailing in the conference between Prime Minister Chamberlain and Chancellor Hitler at Godesberg.

INCIDENT ON POLISH BORDER

CIESZYN, Poland (at the Czechoslovak Frontier) (AP)—Poles on the Czechoslovak side of this city today attacked two posts of the Czechoslovak police. The extent of injuries was not known.

Work was virtually at a standstill in this town, which straddles the Czechoslovak-Polish border, as residents anxiously awaited development in Czechoslovakia's submission to the demands of her minorities.

BRITISH GROUP LEAVING PRAGUE

LONDON (AP)—The Exchange Telegraph said today the British legation at Prague had instructed all British subjects to leave the Czechoslovak capital immediately. It said a special airplane from London already had left Prague with several Britons.

VICTORIA, 5 a.m. today—Pressure is high over British Columbia, but it appears low northwest of the Queen Charlotte Islands. PASSES INTO GERMAN HANDS—The Czechoslovakian border city of Eger (Cheb) today was a rallying point for Sudeten Germans as Czech soldiers and police withdrew from the Sudeten areas as a result of the government's acceptance yesterday of the French-British proposals for a settlement with Germany.

Jan Syrovy New Czech Premier

Inspector-General of Czech Army Succeeds Premier Milan Hodza

PRAGUE (AP)—General Jan Syrovy, inspector-general of the Czechoslovak army, formed a cabinet today to succeed that of Milan Hodza, which resigned amid rising resentment against the imminent cession of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland.

The new cabinet was said to consist almost entirely of civil servants and non-political persons.

The only holdover from the Hodza cabinet was said to be Kamil Krofta, the foreign minister.

A government spokesman said the new regime would not be a military dictatorship but a "military government" capable of the firmness needed to cope with the excited temper of the nation.

Syrovy is regarded as a friend of Russia. He lost an eye while fighting in the famous Czech legion with the Russian armies during the Great War.

HENLEIN TROOPS OCCUPY AREA

March From Germany Into Sudetenland As Czech Units Leave

By MELVIN WHITELEATHER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

EGER, Czechoslovakia—Czechoslovak soldiers, gendarmes and police began retiring from the Sudeten German region at midday today as the first step toward carrying out the annexation of the territory by Germany.

They fell back by mutual agreement toward the "language frontier" line which separates the Czech-speaking areas from districts where German is the predominant language.

Simultaneously with their withdrawal, the Sudeten Free Corps organized in Germany by Sudeten Leader Konrad Henlein marched in from all sides of the frontier.

The two military forces, however, did not meet.

Reports reaching Eger from other districts said all was quiet and the Czechoslovak soldiers left in perfect discipline.

WILD CELEBRATIONS

As news of the evacuation spread the Sudetens immediately went on a wild holiday.

The entire territory was a mass of swastika flags. The Sudetens saluted everybody, shouting "Heil Hitler." Farmers driving oxcarts and smoking crooked, long-stem pipes beamed as they raised their hands in the Nazi salute.

More German Demands Hinted

Berlin Press Says Prague's Acceptance Was Too Late

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

BERLIN — The controlled German press indicated today the resignation of President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia was one of the demands Chancellor Hitler was presenting to Prime Minister Chamberlain in their meeting at Godesberg.

There were intimations the Prime Minister would find the proposals for meeting Hitler's demands which Great Britain and France compelled the Prague government to accept, no longer would meet the situation.

"Prague accepted, but too late," said the Lokal Anzfiger, evidently inspired.

PEAK YEAR FOR CAR LICENSES

New All-time High For B.C. Registration Foreseen By Provincial Police

British Columbia's motor vehicle registration continues to soar and there is every prospect of a new record being set this year, according to figures released by the B.C. Police motor office.

To the end of August there were 109,870 cars licensed, as compared with 106,672 for the same period last year, showing a gain of 3,198.

Of this year's total 88,347 licenses were issued for passenger cars and 21,521 for commercial vehicles. There were 5,611 new passenger registrations and 1,504 new commercial registrations.

Last year the passenger total was 85,514, including 8,332 new registrations and the commercial aggregate was 21,158, including 2,262 new registrations.

Civic Election Talk Starts

Five Retiring Aldermen Expected to Meet Competition

The first stirrings of civic election activity were manifest in the City Hall this week as aldermen scanned a voters registration list which, to date, is somewhat below that of last year. The list will close on Friday of next week, under the new regulations.

Five aldermen, James Adam, W. L. Morgan, Alex Peden, Archie Wills and John A. Worthington, must face the electorate if they wish to continue in office next year. Announcement of candidature is not expected from any of them for some time, but it is expected all will run.

No one has come forward so far in opposition to Mayor Andrew McGavin and chances of him securing an acclamation appear better than they have been since he took office as the city's chief magistrate.

In addition to perennial candidates, including Mrs. Alice McGregor and possibly John Day, T. W. C. Hawkins, a former alderman of lengthy service, may make a bid to re-enter the civic circle this year. His statement of intentions is not expected for a while yet, however.

George McDonald, Chamber of Commerce member, is freely mentioned as a new entry.

Elections will take place as usual in the City Market on the second Thursday of the final month. This year that falls on December 8, just three days after the British Columbia Electric Railway Company's franchise officially terminates.

National Guardsmen Patrol Massachusetts Towns and Roosevelt Orders U.S. Agencies To Aid Storm Sufferers

BOSTON (AP) — National guardsmen were on duty in 23 Massachusetts towns today, preserving order. They moved in as looting of storm-smashed stores was reported from various sectors.

Governor Charles F. Hurley of Massachusetts, declared a fuel and food emergency, and his council approved a $25,000 flood relief appropriation.

A food shortage was reported in three of Massachusett's isolated communities. Gilbertsville, Barre and Barre plains sent out word that each had food enough for but one day, and the only way it could be brought in was by boat over flooded areas.

FEDERAL AID

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Roosevelt ordered United States government agencies today to give all possible assistance along the storm-swept north Atlantic seaboard.

Stephen Early, White House press secretary, said the President had instructed the navy, coastguard and the Civilian Conservation Corps to render aid in Long Island, Connecticut, Massachusetts and any other stricken area.

Heavy Damage in Quebec

Power and Telephone Lines Out and One Dead As Wind Storm Sweeps Off To the North

MONTREAL (CP) — Raked by a fierce storm of wind and rain, Quebec province counted heavy toll in property damage and the loss of one life today as the gale blew off to the north.

Toppling power lines had plunged many areas into darkness for hours. Telephone and telegraph communications were thrown into disorder. Trees were uprooted, windows smashed and roofs torn away. Streams overflowed as they swelled with the heavy rain.

The rising Portneuf River today threatened loss of life at Portneuf village, 35 miles west of Quebec city. Riverside families hurriedly fled from their homes as the crumbling banks undermined foundations of dwellings near where five persons of one family perished early this month when a flood carried their home downstream.

The single reported death was in Montreal, where 25-year-old Robert A. Darwin was struck by a falling high tension power line. Two men in the city were injured.

Division Superintendent J. Magnan of the Montreal tramways was in serious condition in a hospital after he had been struck on the head by a butt-end of a toppled tree.

Street car passengers and crews had to wade through water up to their waists when a car stalled in a traffic tunnel inundated with four feet of water.

UNITED CHURCH DEBATES FINANCES

As Business Concern, It Would Be Bankrupt, Council Told

TORONTO (CP)—The General Council of the United Church of Canada in annal session here today was told any business concern in the present financial position of the church would be considered hopelessly bankrupt.

Presenting the report of the finance committee, J. J. Gibson of Toronto voiced apprehension over the accumulated deficit of $1,715,229. There was a deficit of $34,062 last year, when income of $2,320,512, including $1,509,019 from the missionary and maintenance fund, failed to meet expenses.

He hoped a concerted effort would be made to increase givings during the coming year and that as much money as possible would be apportioned to the various boards. He suggested church people should remember the church in their wills.

Tobacco Combine Charge Dismissed

Quebec Chief Justice Rules Against Dealer In Suit For $10,000

MONTREAL (CP)—Judgment of Chief Justice R. A. E. Greenshields in Superior Court today dismissed an action by Max Ratner, tobacco jobber, seeking $10,000 from the Imperial Tobacco Company and others with a charge that a trade combine denied him the right to earn a living.

The Chief Justice rejected Ratner's claim that the tobacco company (or its sales subsidiary) was responsible for formation of the province of Quebec Wholesale Tobacco Distributors' Association in 1937. Ratner claimed it constituted "a conspiracy against the public interest and against the interests of the plaintiff in particular."

The court declared there was nothing to show the Imperial Tobacco Company controlled the association or had been responsible for refusal of the association to admit Ratner as a member or to sell him tobacco supplies.

SPECIAL CONSTABLE UNDER ARREST

Assault Charge Laid For Action at Blubber Bay Riot

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Police said here today Special Constable Andrew Williamson had been arrested on a warrant sworn out by Robert Gardiner charging the constable with assault in connection with a labor disturbance at Blubber Bay, B.C., last Saturday.

The warrant was served on Williamson on his arrival here today from the Texada Island town, 80 miles north of Vancouver, where 12 men, including a British Columbia police constable, were injured when police cleared striking and working employees of the Pacific Lime Company from a dock.

Gardiner is in the hospital at Powell River, 10 miles north of Blubber Bay on the British Columbia mainland, with fractured ribs and other injuries he claims were suffered when he was beaten by Williamson.

AWAIT TRIAL

Eighteen men are at present in Oakalla Prison in Burnaby municipality awaiting trial on charges of being members of an unlawful assembly.

Gardiner and John Hole, secretary of the International Woodworkers of America, Blubber Bay local, have been charged with inciting to riot.

Two other men, also in hospital at Powell River, face charges of being members of an unlawful assembly.

Employees of the Pacific Lime Company's Blubber Bay plant were called out on strike several months ago by the Woodworkers' Union, a Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate. A number remained at work.

WIND SWEEPS NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX (CP)—High winds swept Nova Scotia early today, but the seaside province escaped the brunt of the storm that wrought such havoc in the New England states.

Reports from Kentville in the Annapolis Valley apple orchard district were that the $1,000,000 crop had escaped serious damage and was about 30 per cent harvested.

Storm Over North Atlantic Seaboard Worst in 100 Years

ENORMOUS DAMAGE

NEW YORK (CP) The ever-lengthening roster of the dead from an equinoctial hurricane which struck the North Atlantic states with a savageness unequalled in 100 years stood at 278 today—and still the tragic figures mounted.

The known death toll by states, was: Massachusetts 96, Rhode Island 95, Connecticut 36, New York 33, New Hampshire 13, New Jersey 2, Vermont 2, Quebec province 1—Total, 278.

The damage to property — to hundreds of smashed boats, to growing or maturing crops, to homes, utilities, public buildings, transportation and commuication —was beyond calculation, rising to uncounted millions of dollars. How many thousands were homeless could not even be guessed.

Many thousands of men and women in the great area of disaster — troops, police, coastguardsmen, naval reservists, Red Cross workers and Boy Scouts—were joining in the work of rescue.

Meanwhile, this morning the storm—which had been accompanied by fearsome tidal waves on some sections of the coast—moved upward into Canada.

CAPE COD HIT

There was the gravest fear that later news would add much to the extent of the catastrophe to the isolated people of Cape Cod, extending like an up-curved forefinger from the Massachusetts mainland, and to the islands of Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket, lying to the south of the Cape in the open sea.

The first direct report, covering only the base of the Cape nearest the mainland, showed at least 21 dead—a tentative figure apparently certain to go much higher.

Streams rose everywhere in the stricken area, most of which had been beaten for days by extraordinary heavy falls of rain, and to those standing amid the debris left by the wind there came the added menace of imminent flood.

Especially hard hit were the areas of Providence, Rhode Island, and the swank north shore of Long Island. Hundreds of summer cottages were smashed in the roaring gale.

The storm blew up yesterday morning from Cape Hatteras, hitting Long Island in the afternoon and sweeping northward through western New England. Reaching Vermont, U.S. weather bureau officials said, the centre bore to the west, crossing the lower St. Lawrence valley near Montreal.

In Quebec province only one death had been reported, but destruction of property was heavy.

FIRE MENACE

To the widespread devastation of the wind was added, at some points in New England, the destruction of fire.

At one point on the Cape Cod Canal, Onset, the whole population of 2,000 rushed to the village's one hill to escape inundation from great waves which made the town an island.

Of the seven states hit by the storm, Massachusetts had reported the largest number of dead—well above 50. Others where fatalities were high were Rhode Island, Connecticut and New York. New Jersey, Vermont and New Hampshire escaped the full horror.

Looting started at several points.

The storm flooded hundreds of miles of rich farm lands, ripped out bridges, railroads and highways, demolished buildings, sank boats, destroyed livestock, tore down telephone and light wires and left scores of communities isolated in chaos and fear.

U.S. Coast guard headquarters in Washington dispatched 2,500 men and scores of cutters to the storm scene. The coastguard estimated between 500 and 700 small fishing and pleasure craft had been sunk or driven ashore.

The hurricane, which spared the Florida and the southern coast as it curved northward, by a similar fluke missed New York city in its haphazard march of destruction.

Other Minority Rights at Issue

Britain May Not Aid Polish and Hungarian Demands on Czechs

HORSHAM, Essex, England (CP-Havas) — Earl Winterton, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, declared here today that there is no foundation for the belief that the British Government will favor the demands made by other minority groups in Czechoslovakia that the Sudeten Germans.

After declaring Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's visit to Germany last week averted war, Lord Winterton warned:

"Unhappily since then two European countries adjacent to Czeshoslovakia and a large portion of the German press have put forward proposals which go far beyond and indeed have nothing to do with the Sudeten German question.

"These countries and newspapers should be under no delusion that there is any foundation for the belief that His Majesty's government would in any way favor these proposals."

In his address, Earl Winterton stressed it was necessary for the British people to keep a "very cool and clear judgment in the terrible perplexities of the situation."

He said the crisis is "by no means" over, and added:

"But for the Prime Minister's visit last week (to Berchtesgaden) a conflagration would have already started which would almost certainly have enveloped all of Europe sooner or later."

HUNGARIAN MOVE

BUDAPEST (AP)—It was officially announced today Hungary, through her minister at Prague, handed a note to the Czechoslovak foreign minister, Kamil Krofta, this morning requesting rights for Hungarian minorities in Czechslovakia equal to those which may be granted the Sudeten German minority.

The action in Prague came after the Hungarian Council had decided on measures to assure the return to Hungary of territories which she lost to Czechoslovakia as a result of the Great War.

Hungary seems determined to get those territories back at the same time Germany sets foot on Sudetenland.

POLAND'S DEMAND

WARSAW (AP)—Poland prepared today to claim a slice of the Teschen (Cieszyn) district in northern Czechoslovakia as it appeared here the Republic of the Czechs and Slovaks was about to undergo amputation of all minority districts.

A communique announced the Polish minister in Prague, Casimir Papee, had called on Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta with a note announcing Poland expects territory in Czechoslovakia inhabited by Poles to be treated the same way as the Sudetenland.

Tilt Today at Ontario Inquiry

Former Employee Questioned on Attitude of Mental Home Head

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A threat to call "every member" of the staff at the Ontario Hospital here if a former employee's opinion of the suspended superintendent were allowed to go on record was made today at the royal commission inquiry into the hospital by A. M. LeBel, counsel for Dr. G. H. Stevenson, suspended superintendent.

Protesting "this is like calling a private to give his opinion about his colonel," LeBel made the threat as Eric Silk, commission counsel, pressed for answers from John Johnston, former supervisor of the observation unit of the hospital. Johnston had replied "yes" to a question by Silk whether Dr. Stevenson was, "with regard to the other three superintendents," a strict disciplinarian.

The witness said he had served under four superintendents—Dr. Stevenson, Dr. Vrooman, Dr. Robinson and Dr. McAlpine.

"With regard to the other three superintendents, was Dr. Stevenson a strict disciplinarian?" asked Silk.

When Johnston answered the discipline question and declared attendants had been suspended "for minor offences," LeBel jumped to his feet to object, and Chairman Clifford Magone struck the answer from the record.

The commission ruled out evidence from employees regarding their opinion of superior officers.

AT BOARDING HOUSE

Mrs. Lorinda Bailie of St. Mary's, who used to operate an approved board home for Ontario Hospital patients in London, recalled John R. Green as a patient with her for two months. He went there August 7, 1937. Green, former Victoria resident, made the complaints which resulted in the inquiry.

LeBel produced a letter in which Mrs. Bailie asked the hospital to take Green back, as he was "too much of a responsibility." The letter added, "We don't know what he is doing outside."

Hospital authorities took Green back the day she asked them to, Mrs. Bailie added.

The witness said Green often brought wine into the house and she found empty wine jugs in his room.

Green took a great interest in astronomy.

Hugh Bailie, her husband, told of writing a report on Green.

"You couldn't keep track of him," Bailie said of Green.

INCIDENT OF 1933

At yesterday's session evidence was given that Dr. G. H. Stevenson was not the first superintendent of the Ontario Hospital accused by John R. Green of having held him in hospital illegally.

A veteran hospital employee, John Johnston, noted in 1933 in Green's day-to-day case history that the lawyer had complained about the superintendent of that day, the late Dr. F. C. Vrooman. Green was quoted as saying: "I will make Dr. Vrooman pay for having me locked up here illegally."

The investigation was instigated by Green's charge he was held for almost three years, despite the fact he was sane, under the regime of Dr. Stevenson, who has been suspended pending the outcome of the probe.

Johnston, for 32 years a hospital employee and until a year ago supervisor of the observation ward, said that about a year ago he was told by Dr. Stevenson he was no longer supervisor. He considered he had not been properly treated in view of his long service.

Rejects Talks On Seaway Plan

Hepburn Tells King Ontario Is Not Interested in St. Lawrence

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Hepburn today definitely declined Prime Minister King's recent proposal for conferences between technical officials of the Dominion and provincial governments on power features of the St. Lawrence Seaway plan. In a letter to the Prime Minister, Mr. Hepburn said Ontario was "simply not interested" in production of any more power.

The Ontario Premier's letter was in reply to one Mr. King dispatched to him August 3 urging resumption of technical discussions between the two provinces. Mr. King's letter followed an attack on the seaway plan by Mr. Hepburn the day after President Roosevelt urged support of it in a speech opening the Thousand Islands Bridge at Ivy Lea, Ont.

Mr. Hepburn believed the whole seaway project would prove "as great a fiasco as the present Hudson Bay Outlet"—the railway from The Pas, Man., to Churchill. He declared he wished to be "entirely untrammelled in my discussion of any proposal which may come from your government, when and if you decide to announce a policy on the St. Lawrence development."

Matters of power development had been investigated fully by Ontario Hydro-electric Power Commission engineers, he said. There was "no necessity to incur further expense of doing this work over again in order to delay the embarrassing necessity of stating your policy toward this province."

Recalling the province was "swamped" with a surplus of unuseable Quebec power when his government took office in 1934, Mr. Hepburn said Ontario now had a power surplus larger than it required as a reserve.

"This province is simply not interested in the production of any more power," he wrote. "To take any part in any negotiations which may lead to this end would be unwise and misleading. . . Quebec and Ontario are suffering from a surplus of power which will continue for many years to come."

Shipping Paralyzed

Vessels and Trains Delayed in Massachusetts As Result of Great Storm and New London Has $1,000,000 Fire

BOSTON (AP) — The great storm which swept the northeastern United States paralyzed shipping in Boston Harbor, stopped railroad traffic to Montreal and tied up many of Massachusetts' highways. A tugboat, sinking in the harbor, carried seven men to death.

More than 2,500 residents in the south section of Springfield were evacuated as the Connecticut River, swollen by rain, created a fresh emergency. At Lowell, workers erected sandbag barricades beside the Merrimack.

The situation was so extreme in Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island authorities mobilized all possible forces—including the army, national guard, state health department workers, and Boy Scouts—for relief work. Many towns, isolated by floods, were out of communication as dawn came after the night's disturbance.

FIRE IN NEW LONDON

Firemen in water shoulder deep fought hours to subdue a stubborn fire that blazed through a square block of business buildings in New London, historic whaling port. Damage was $1,000,000.

Coastguard officials had a plane dispatched at dawn from New York to carry medical supplies to the stricken port.

The rising Connecticut River carried threat of further danger to residents of Hartford, where it cut a $20,000,000 ribbon of ruin in the 1936 flood.

Most of the state's storm victims met death under falling trees, roofs and buildings. Others drowned in Long Island Sound.

An exploding gas tank of 300,000 cubic feet capacity rocked the waterfront of Providence, R.I., already ravaged by high tides. Near Jamesport, R.I., a school bus carrying five or six children was reported engulfed.

High Winds in Ottawa District

OTTAWA (CP)—Highest wind in four years, accompanied by rain squalls, whipped the Ottawa district last night and early today.

Damage was done to orchards and several power and telephone lines were blown down. The Dominion Experimental Farm reported that not since 1934, when wind velocity records first were read, had such a gale blown in the Ottawa valley. A maximum velocity of 42 miles an hour was recorded.

Chamberlain Flies

Leaving London For Talk With Hitler, British Prime Minister Says Peace For All Europe His Objective

By JAMES RESTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON — Prime Minister Chamberlain flew to the German Rhineland today to ask Chancellor Hitler for peace gestures in return for Czechoslovakia's cession of its Germanic Sudetenland.

Before entering the plane for his flight to Cologne, Mr. Chamberlain said:

"Peaceful solution of the Czechoslovak problem is an essential preliminary to better understanding between the British and German peoples.

"That, in its turn is the indispensable foundation for European peace. European peace is what I am aiming at, and I hope this journey may open the way to get it."

Mr. Chamberlain and Chancellor Hitler started their talk at Godesberg at 4 p.m. (7 a.m., P.S.T.).

It was his second trip to see Hitler. A week ago, on the trip to Berchtesgaden, he was cheered as an emmissary for peace by great crowds. Today, when he left his Downing Street residence, several clapped hands, one booed.

As the Prime Minister left, Earl Baldwin made a surprise call on the King, remaining for a long talk.

HITLER'S DEMANDS

As Mr. Chamberlain left here, it was feared that Hitler, instead of being in a mood for concessions, would demand nothing less than an utter dismemberment of the Czech state.

There still was no indication of Mr. Chamberlain's view on demands by Hungary and Poland for a share in Czech territory. It was known, however, that both the Polish and Hungarian ministers in London expressed the view that they can be satisfied with nothing less for their minorities than Hitler secured for the Sudetens.

Mr. Chamberlain already is faced with outspoken opposition from Labor and Liberal leaders and, what was perhaps more important, from two influential Conservatives, Anthony Eden and Winston Churchill.

A delegation of Labor leaders flew to Paris today to discuss a further common front with French labor to fight the Anglo-French plan.

Summer Colony Wrecked

Hurricane Wreaks Havoc Along 100 Miles of Long Island and Bodies Sighted in Sea

NEW YORK (AP)—Waves battered the entire 100-mile length of Long Island during the great windstorm last night, washing away hundreds of small summer cottages and beach buildings. Among them was a lighthouse that had withstood the sea's whims for 75 years.

Most forlorn village today was West Hampton, a summer playground for New York Society, where at least 140 homes were wrecked. A dozen bodies lay in the exclusive West Hampton Country Club, many unidentified.

A police cordon kept spectators back from the ruins of 50 cottages, dumped into the centre of the village after having been swept a quarter of a mile from their sites by monstrous waves.

Coastguardsmen reported heavy damage also at Great South Beach, where 125 cottages were destroyed. Tweny more were demolished at Camp Cheerful, retreat for crippled children.

AREA UNDER WATER

A 30-mile area from Moriches to East Hampton was reported by Coastguard Commander William Wolfe to be under water. He said the loss of life was "severe."

Spectators who escaped the storm's wrath told of seeing floating bodies in the ebbing tide. Rescuers said it would take days to investigate the inundated beach stretches and determine the full death toll. Coastguard Commander Stephen S. Yeandle of New York estimated 50 small boats sank near Long Beach. One thousand more, he said, were drifting along the southern shore.

Registration of 2,107 For New Term Shows Increase Over Last Year's Attendance at Institution at Point Grey

VANCOUVER (CP)—Total registration at the university of British Columbia for the 1938-39 term was announced today as 2,107, compared with 2,088 last year and 1,823 the year before. These figures are exclusive of the graduate and directed reading courses which will not be complete until October 14.

Formal opening ceremonies were held yesterday and the voice of Dean Daniel Buchanan, of the arts faculty was heard in an appeal for "educational freedom."

"Freedom of the press is recognized as a sacred pillar of democracy. Universities need the same liberty of thought and speech," he said.

Eleven new faculty members were introduced to the student body. It was announced at the same time four of last year's professors had resigned and three others were granted leaves of absence.

Says Canada Can Not Be Neutral

Lt.-Governor Tupper of Manitoba Tells Veterans Dominion Follows Britain

WINNIPEG (CP) — Canada could not remain neutral if Great Britain found herself involved in war, Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Tupper of Manitoba told the closing gathering of the Dominion convention of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association here last night.

"Some people believe or pretend to believe that Great Britain can be at war and Canada can be neutral," Mr. Tupper, former president of the association, said. "I don't think any of us here subscribe to any such idiotic nonsense. All constitutional authority is dead against it.

"We'll find out what kind of neutrality Canada will have—the enemy will settle that," Mr. Tupper asserted. "The parliament of Canada can't settle whether Canada's at war or not under those circumstances. All they can do is to meet and declare a state of war exists and settle how they're going to help — whether they're going to send troops or airplanes or what."

He pleaded for national unity in order that the British Empire might present a united front to any foe. Mr. Tupper asserted the trouble with Czeshoslovakia was that it had no unity.

CANADA'S DEFENCES

Major-General H. D. B. Ketchen of Winnipeg declare before the wind-up banquet that defences of the Dominion should be built up until Canada was fully able to protect her territory. It war broke out tomorrow, any number of enemy bombers could reach Canada's cities, he declared.

Lieut.-Col. R. H. Webb of Winnipeg, in responding to the toast to sister organizations, said "the only regret that we can have is that at a time when Australia and New Zealand and South African and India have assured Mr. Chamberlain of their support, Canada has not spoken."

"Where does Canada stand?" he demanded. "Nobody knows and the enemy may be counting on that. The greatest thing the Prime Minister of Canada could do would be to say with the premiers of the other Dominions, 'Mr. Chamberlain, we're with you, right or wrong'."

Press Warns Of More Trouble

Chamberlain Urged To Be Firm in Hitler Dealings

LONDON (CP)—The crisis is not over, warned the Manchester Guardian, Liberal, today in an editorial discussing the claims of the Hungarian and Polish minorities in Czechoslovakia.

"There is no doubt how it (the question of the demands of other minorities) will be settled or that it will be settled soon," the Guardian said. "This country may be spared the humiliation of telling the Czechs what next they must sacrifice, or it may not.

The Manchester Daily Dispatch, Independent, warned that "any individual or political group which would try to embarrass Mr. Chamberlain or prejudice the meeting (with Hitler) must be either devoid of sense or deliberately anxious to bring about European war."

The Liverpool Post, Liberal: "Mr. Chamberlain carries with him a proposed solution of the Czechoslovakian problem in which few can take any satisfaction and which many people genuinely deplore."

The London Star, Liberal: "We hope he (Chamberlain) will stand firm against any fresh German demand, especially those clamors for absorption of the Czech state which so ominously appear in the German press. He will never carry this country as a whole for such a policy of surrender."

Freed From Service

BERLIN (AP) — Telephoned adives from Eger today said Czechoslovak military authorities had ordered the release from service of all soldiers of German nationality.

The informant did not know whether this applied throughout the republic, but said it was a definite order for Eger in the Sudeten German district.

BENES APPEALS FOR CZECH UNITY

President Says He Does Not Fear For Future of Country

PRAGUE (AP) — President Eduard Benes in a broadcast to the nation tonight said he did not fear for the future of Czechoslovakia.

"In the whole of Europe changes are taking place, not only in our country," he told his compatriots.

"These changes have different forms in different countries. We must therefore face changes with calm and unity."

Referring to the Prague government's capitulation to the Anglo-French proposal to lop off the Sudeten areas at Chancellor Hitler's behest, the President said.

"The government has had to act in accordance with present circumstances. I have never feared and I do not fear for the future of our nation.

"I have made my plans and can not be surprised by events.

"I am ready for any understanding that will be favorable for my country, for the pacification of Europe and for collaboration with Great Britain, France and Germany.

"I call upon you to preserve your calm and await developments.

"We are prepared if necessary to fight to the last man for our rights, just as we are prepared to negotiate.

"If we have given away, it is to our honor. I see things clearly and I have my plans. Our line of policy is firm. Your patriotic demonstrations I fully understand. They show your interest in the state. Do not lose your feeling of optimism or your common sense."

RUBBER QUOTA

LONDON (AP)—The International Rubber Regulation Committee today fixed 45 per cent as the basic quota of permissible exportable amounts for the last quarter of the year. The quota for the third quarter was also 45 per cent.

FIRST PEEK AT A WHITE GIRAFFE—This rare photograph of an albino bull giraffe with an ordinary giraffe was taken in Kenya Colony, East Africa, by Col. A. J. MacNab, president of the Camp Fire Club of America and former U.S. military attache to the embassy in Mexico City. It is the first authentic photograph ever taken of an albino giraffe. The white color is caused by lack of color pigment in the animal's skin.

Communist Probe In Ontario Plan

TORONTO (CP) — Attorney-General Conant of Ontario said today that if Mrs. Bertha Lamb, president of the Housewives' Association of Canada, had any evidence concerning activities of Communists in Toronto or Ontario he would investigate it. Mrs. Lamb last night announced dissolution of the organization because it was systematically throttled by the "forces of communism."

"Whether another organization will be formed, I can't say," Mrs. Lamb said today.

STORM IN ONTARIO

TORONTO (CP) — Wind and heavy rain buffeted Ontario during the night and early today. The storm was apparently the backwash of the hurricane lashing the Atlantic coast.

Eastern Ontario felt the full force of the wind, Kingston being particularly hard hit. Meaford, on Georgian Bay, experienced heavy winds which churned the bay waters, covered docks with water and kept shipping tied up.

Robt. Wilkinson Heads Veterans' Association

WINNIPEG (CP) — Robert Wilkinson of Vancouver was elected president of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association in Canada at yesterday's session of its convention. He succeeds Col. W. C. Woods of Quebec.

Resolutions passed yesterday included one demanding the federal government increase immediately the strength of the Canadian naval, army and air forces to at least equal to the strength of other component parts of the British Empire, on basis of population.

Mrs. E. Wasdell of Winnipeg was named Dominion president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association in Canada at its convention here yesterday.

Many B.C. Students Learn of Defects

VANCOUVER (CP)—only 12 per cent of 841 University of British Columbia students examined by the university health unit during the 1937-38 term were without physical defects, according to a report presented to the Metropolitan health committee yesterday by Dr. K. F. Brandon.

The other 88 per cent suffered from defective eyesight, flat feet and fallen arches, bad complexions, spinal defects or faulty thyroid glands, Dr. Brandon said.

Slightly more than 75 per cent of the students were given permission to participate in strenuous or competitive games, he said.

Canadian Pundits Again Arguing Status in War

Both Major Parties Committed in Principle to Call Parliament

OTTAWA—Two main questions have been repeatedly put to Parliament Hill from all parts of the country.

The first is whether, in the event of Britain going to war, Canada would automatically be at war, or whether, under the Statute of Westminster, it would be necessary for the Dominion to issue a declaration of war in its own right to enter into the hostilities?

The second is less academic and more vital. What would be the actual steps which the Canadian government would take if war should break out? Would there be a union government? Would there be immediate conscription? Would an expeditionary force be dispatched at once?

The first question is one over which the pundits of Parliament Hill have been waging ever since the Statute of Westminster was passed, an argument which is apparently interminable. Legally, it may be possible to argue that under the new status of Empire Canada is not at war until she she says so herself. But against this possibility, the practical answer to the problem as to whether or not Canada is automatically at war when Britain is would seem to lie in the affirmative, due to the improbability of any antagonist of Great Britain being prepared to respect Canadian neutrality even if it were declared. It is to be recognized that the question is one for the other belligerent power with which Britain is engaged to answer, just as much as it is for Canada.

The general opinion among Parliament Hill experts, legal as well as constitutional, is that if ever the situation should be faced, it will be the practical considerations involved, not technicalities of legal nicety, which will furnish the answer. Canada, in other words, will find out whether she is at war or not if ever the Motherland takes the plunge without having to consult the law officers of the Department of Justice.

UNION GOVERNMENT SPECULATIONS

The other question as to what immediate steps the federal government would take in the event of war can only be a matter of conjecture based upon what have seemed to be the indications of the past week of crisis. The question is hypothetical; therefore the reply must be hypothetical also. But with this necessary qualification, the following forecasts may be offered as suggested by the apparent attitude of government circles at the moment:

(1) There would be an immediate attempt to form a union government, and it might, or might not, be successful.

(2) There would be no immediate dispatching of an expeditionary force.

(3) There would not be, consequently, immediate conscription, although there would likely be an immediate national registration.

Almost unquestionably a union cabinet would be the first thought which would occur to the Prime Minister. In the first place, there would be a call for a united national effort by the Canadian people, and the experience of the last war demonstrated that a united national effort could only be made after all thought of politics had been abandoned. In the second place, the present government, which has enjoyed strong support from nationalistic quarters, would be under a peculiar handicap in conducting a war unless it managed to first eliminate politics from the federal picture.

That the offer of union government would be accepted by the interests to which it would be tendered is less certain than the fact that it would be made. The Conservatives, for instance, have little traditional confidence in the suitability of the present Liberal chieftain to have charge of war operations. Furthermore, if a union cabinet were being formed, it would have to include one or more members from both the C.C.F. and the Social Credit groups. The indication is that the Social Credit Party would co-operate readily, but that the C.C.F. might be more difficult to enlist.

EXPEDITIONARY FORCE?

The improbability of an immediate expeditionary force being dispatched is suggested by the comparative absence of any particular emphasis upon infantry in either the British or the Canadian programs of preparedness that are now going forward. The whole expectation is that the next war, if and when it comes, will be primarily a war in the air, Canada's first contribution would unquestionably be to place her industry upon a war-time basis at the Empire's service, particularly with respect to plane production. In addition, it is likely that facilities would be provided for Canadians to volunteer for overseas air service. An air unit almost certainly would be the first one to be recruited in the Dominion.

In the light of the improbability of any immediate expeditionary force, it is unlikely that conscription would be enforced at once. Instead, there would probably be national registration, with the man-power of the Dominion being placed potentially upon a war reserve basis.

BOTH WEALTH AND MEN

With the C.C.F. in line for representation in any union cabinet, there would probably be a determined drive to force the conscription of wealth in return for their participation. While this suggestion has been a popular one for platform speakers to voice, Parliament Hill has never understood clearly just what it involved in the way of a practical program, and it is unlikely that it would be attempted. Instead, the government's efforts would undoubtedly be bent in the direction of preventing profiteering in war contracts.

Whatever might be done along the foregoing lines would almost certainly be done under the authority of Parliament. While the government would be responsible for the conduct of any war in which the Dominion might become involved, both the major parties are commited in principle to the summoning of Parliament to place its approval upon Canada's participation. The Senate and Commons would almost certainly be convened at the earliest possible moment after the completion of a government program to submit to them.

New Moderator For United Church

Rev Dr. John W. Woodside, Ottawa, Succeeds Rt. Rev. Dr. Peter Bryce

TORONTO (CP)—Rev. John W. Woodside, D.D., minister of Chalmers United Church, Ottawa, is the new Moderator of the United Church of Canada. He was elected last night to succeed Rt. Rev. Peter Bryce, D.D., minister of the Metropolitan United Church, Toronto.

Dr. Woodside was elected at the first business session of the eighth General Council of the church which opened in Trinity United Church here. Rev. Robert Laird, D.D., church treasurer, his only opponent, moved after the result of the election was announced that Dr. Woodside's election be made unanimous.

On his installation, Dr. Woodside declared the church would only recover her leadership when she shared with God His concern for needy and suffering men everywhere.

Dr. Woodside paid tribute to Dr. Bryce.

"His gentle, kindly manner has fallen over the church as a benediction," he said. "Canada is a better place to live in because of Dr. Bryce."

Dr. Woodside had a notable record of service in the Presbyterian Church when he entered the United Church of Canada on its formation in 1925. Prior to the union he was organizer for Canada for the church union vote.

Born at St. Sylvestre West, Que., 57 years ago, Dr. Woodside was educated at Manitoba and McGill universities and the Presbyterian College, Montreal.

LEADERSHIP NEEDED

The Christian Church throughout the world must give leadership in moral and social reconstruction, Dr. Bryce, the retiring moderator, told the General Council.

"If the churches of Canada are to make their real contribution to world peace, they must speak constantly with an ever-increasing authority," he declared.

"In the last analysis, the issues today are not merely those of democracy versus totalitarianism, or of authority versus freedom, or of selfish greed versus Christian charity, but they involve the very existence of the religion of Jesus Christ itself."

Dr. Bryce declared there appeared no doubt the German government was determined to do all in its power to uproot Christianity and to introduce a national faith that had nothing to do with belief in God. The government, he said, was dominated by a philosophy that was the very antithesis of anything that could properly be designated as Christian.

"From Europe the carefully cultivated hatred of the Jew has spread to other parts of the world and it has even threatened to penetrate into our own dominion," he said. "A vitrialic campaign, claiming the international Jews are the main source of the political, economic and moral woes of mankind, has been launched."

Daylight Saving in Ontario Nears End

TORONTO (CP)—That extra hour of sleep lost last spring by thousands of Ontario citizens when clocks in their municipalities were pushed ahead for daylight saving time will be recovered this week-end. Most places observing "fast" time will turn their clockhands back an hour sometime around midnight Saturday.

Daylight saving time, a method of tinkering with clocks so city workers may have longer periods of light after finishing work, was observed in 47 Ontario municipalities this year.

FERNIE FACING COAL SHORTAGE

Rationing Plan Started After Mine Accident In Which Three Died

FERNIE (CP)—A coal shortage loomed at this East Kootenay city today as a result of Tuesday's mine accident at the No. 1 East Mine of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, which brought death to three miners and trapped four others for hours.

The company yesterday suspended all deliveries of fuel. Hundreds of tons are on order for winter needs. Officials announced, however, that a rationing policy would be instituted pending resumption of operations so no one would be completely denied coal in the event of cold weather.

The inquest on the accident stood indefinitely adjourned. The jury viewed the bodies of Wm. Brown, Wm. Green and Thomas Manning, and decided they would examine the section of the mine which was demolished by an intense "bump," before hearing evidence.

This inspection was held up pending inspection by British Columbia government mine officials.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor G. C. Miller plans to call a meeting of Vancouver citizens shortly to discuss plans for construction of a civic auditorium here.

A draft plan of the structure, cost of which has been tentatively set at $750,000, will be placed before the meeting.

Civil Servants Are Reclassified

OTTAWA (CP)—Positions of more than 7,000 employees in the government service in Ottawa and other parts of the Dominion have been reclassified this year, it is learned. The new grades include salary increases. More than 25,000 positions have been reclassified. During the next two or three years every position in the government service will be reviewed and a uniformity of classification established, ensuring that employees are paid in accordance with the appraised value of their work.

YOUNG LIBERALS ELECT FLANNAGAN

Richard Flannagan was chosen as vice-president of the 20th Century Young Liberal Association at a meeting of the organization at Liberal headquarters recently. Mr. Flannagan will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Keith MacFarlane.

Reports from various committees were heard. Robert Osselton announced a meeting of the debating committee on Tuesday next at headquarters. Plans for a dance to be held on October 7 in the Oak Bay Theatre hall were submitted by James N. Bawden, chairman of the ways and means committee. It was reported by Hank Cassilio, chairman of the sports committee, that Young Liberals would field two soccer teams this season. The first practice will be held on Sunday at Beacon Hill Park at 10.30.

Miss Mary Grant reported that details of the association playwriting contest would be announced later.

News of the Vancouver Island Young Liberal convention to be held in Duncan on October 10 were heard from W. Allison, president of the Young Liberal organization at Duncan.

Refreshments were served by the social committee headed by Miss D. Fairclough.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1938

Drama at Godesberg

FOR THE SECOND TIME IN A WEEK, first at Berchtesgaden and now at Bad Godesberg, Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain and Reichsfuehrer Hitler of Greater Germany are discussing the fate of peace and the fate of a brave nation. The head of the British government, already committed to the policy of carving up Czechoslovakia to satisfy the appetite of the chief apostle of Mitteleuropa policy, is reported to have taken with him to that romantic and altogether delightful little spot on the left bank of the Rhine six definite proposals he hopes will restore Europe's political equilibrium. They are reported to be:

1. Immediate demobilization of German Army reservists.

2. German co-operation in a new non-aggression agreement among Great Britain, France, Germany, and Italy.

3. Creation of an international commission to outline new Czechoslovak frontiers and to transfer populations.

4. A joint Anglo-French appeal for order on the frontiers of Czechoslovakia.

5. Termination of the anti-Czech press campaign by German newspapers.

6. Economic and military guarantees for a new Czech state.

Proposals one, four, and five might readily find favor with the head of the Nazi state. Numbers two and three open up a large vista of controversy—with Hitler leading the sparring for position. The sixth proposal probably will be "received and filed" for general consideration in conjunction with the others.

The creation of a new four-power non-aggression pact involves vast implications. With the proposal, in this instance, is indissolubly linked the remarking of Czechoslovakia's borders and the disposal of both Sudeten Germans and loyal subjects of the republic who have their all in that territory now on the carving block. If the Reichsfuehrer is considering anything of the kind, or if he can be persuaded by Prime Minister Chamberlain to bring the subject within the orbit of the Godesberg discussions, a long step may have been taken toward the establishment of a new order in Europe. But an important question would appear to intrude: If the Nazi Generalissimo condescends to debate this proposal at all, how would he square himself with his partners of the Berlin oligarchy who are obviously solidly behind him in the general scheme gradually to remove all political and territorial obstacles now barring the way to Germany's eastern progress?"

If the "Drang Nach Osten" policy has not weakened, therefore, and nothing has happened to suggest it has, proposals two and three will hardly be sympathetically received by Herr Hitler. Nor is there anything to add strength to the belief that the spectacle of dismemberment—with all it may conceivably connote—of Czechoslovakia will seriously divert the megalomaniacal workings of the Hitlerian mind. It is altogether too late in the day, of course, to argue that a cord in the mental equipment of the Nazi chieftain has been touched by the "persecution" of his 3,500,000 co-nationals in the war-born republic. The solicitude he has so naively manifested from time to time for the Sudeten population has been little more than rather amateurish political "window-dressing." It has fooled nobody.

What it is hoped Mr. Chamberlain will try to find out from his fellow collaborator is this: Is it the policy of Greater Germany to use the initial carving of Czechoslovakia as one more step toward the eastern goal as visualized in Bismarckian days? If he runs true to form, of course, the Reichsfuehrer will give the British Prime Minister an emphatic "No"—and mean the reverse. But if Herr Hitler, by some extraordinary new twist of a policy now actually in operation, should express himself as favorable to a non-aggression proposal such as that reported to have been taken to Bad Godesberg, to what kind of guarantee of performance would he subscribe? And what would his word be worth? Work of reference on this subject: Mein Kampf!

The score to date, then, is the certainty that a sovereign state which Great Britain and France helped to create nearly 20 years ago is bowing to the might of Greater Germany, now represented by Reichsfuehrer Hitler, to defend itself because Downing Street and the Quai d'Orsay presented it with an ultimatum virtually demanding that it do so in the cause of peace. Thus in the hands of Mr. Chamberlain's vis-a-vis at the pleasant Rhenish watering-place have been placed the right to make momentous decisions. So far, his new technique, his bluff, has checked with the gospel according to Mein Kampf.

Hitler's Way

NEARLY SEVEN MONTHS AGO 200,000 German troops marched into Austria to establish a National Socialist regime and incorporate the country as a German province. In loud-sounding speeches the German authorities claimed that they had been driven to this action to put an end to coercion and to establish a form of government based on the will of the people. The general impression conveyed to the Austrians as a whole was that the excesses which had marked the intensification of Nazi-ism in Germany would be avoided in the stolen state.

But in keeping with the difference between Hitler promises and Hitler practices, the triumphant Nazis showed no mercy. Within a week nearly 2,000 persons were arrested for "criminal acts committed under the former regime." Catholic organizations were closed down. Acts of violence were encouraged against the Jews and measures introduced to exclude them from civic rights. "Suicides" soon increased to a hundred a week. The notorious German "Racial Laws" were extended to the new territory. The very name of Austria, of course, promptly ceased to have official recognition. Not content with these excesses, the Nazis have produced a new law under which members of the former Austrian government are to be brought to trial on charges of having shown a hostile attitude to the people while in office.

Responsibility for this state of affairs in what was supposedly independent Austria at the beginning of the year rests wholly with the man to whom Prime Minister Chamberlain again has flown today. He is the same Reichsfuehrer Hitler who has no more intention of keeping his word than he has of exchanging the swastika for the hammer and sickle. Teuton drums are beating: "Drang Nach Osten"!

Very Remiss

WRITING FROM ITS LONDON OFFICE, the Irish Independent's special correspondent, in a recent daily letter to Dublin, began with this:

"The German authorities in London are understood to have requested that War memorials in this country which are likely to be regarded by their compatriots as offensive should be removed or altered. German tourists have complained in particular about a memorial at Sledmere, Malton, Yorkshire. An official of the German Embassy last evening said that a statue on the memorial 'portrays a German soldier cutting off a woman's head'."

If this little matter has escaped Reichsfuehrer Hitler, possibly one of his aides will remind him to suggest to Prime Minister Chamberlain that all captured guns lying around in any British towns and villages should at once be returned to Germany, freight paid, so that the material could be used in the manufacture of new model howitzers.

Moral Rearmament Wanted

BEFORE HE LEFT THE AIRDROME FOR Bad Godesberg this morning, Prime Minister Chamberlain said a "better understanding between the British and German peoples is the indispensable foundation for European peace," and "I hope this journey may open the way to get it."

The statement is true beyond peradventure. It is also true that there already is a good understanding between the British and German peoples. There always has been. The German mother is demanding peace just as fervently as the British mother. The trouble lies in the fact that the people who do all the suffering through and make the payments for war do not seem to be able to find a way to stop governments from pursuing policies which lead to human slaughter.

One of these days, perhaps, the men and women of all lands will rise up in their might and demand a moral and spiritual rearmament—a new order in which self-aggrandizement, national greed, and vicious ambition will cease to thrive. Universal peace will be achieved and preserved only when the implements of progress are turned out at a much quicker rate than the implements of destruction.

And one of these days, too, the fatuous belief that to prepare for war is to ensure peace may be exploded for good and all. It may yet dawn on the peoples of the world as a whole that bigger and better howitzers are not fashioned to become museum pieces. They are intended for the purpose of killing human beings, slaughtering women and children as well as uniformed combatants, the laying waste of great industrial areas and the peaceful countryside; they are intended for nothing else.

Those who fatten on unreasonable armament production—who are savagely identified with the nefarious business of helping to create a war atmosphere—must not be surprised if they are called the "Merchants of Death."

DR. MANION AND UNEMPLOYMENT

From Financial Post

Dr. Robert J. Manion should support his "reform or revolution" speeches with more accurate figures of Canada's unemployment and relief situation.

Speaking at Saint John the other day, he claimed:

"We must recognize that we have almost a million people on relief and half a million unemployed."

The actual facts as shown in most recent Ottawa relief figures indicate only 139,000 fully employable persons receiving non-agricultural aid in June of this year. Total number of unemployed persons in all Canada, as reported by the Bureau of Statistics, is 387,000.

Even the grand total of all classes of persons receiving material and agricultural aid was reported in June as but 892,000. This included 368,000 farmers and their dependents (mostly in Saskatchewan) who are anything but unemployed.

Dr. Manion is right in urging more bold action and less drifting in government re-employment policies.

But he does his cause little good by overlooking the real facts of the situation.

These facts are now available monthly at Ottawa, thanks to the work of the National Employment Commission in breaking down our relief and unemployment figures into their individual and component parts.

Loose Ends

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

COMPETITION

A REMARKABLE biography of Jack London has just been completed in the Saturday Evening Post, and, presumably, will soon be out in book form. To people who remember London's books as they poured in a red-hot stream from the presses, this is interesting reading. But most people under 30 ask you, "Who was Jack London?"

This is a melancholy commentary on the passage of time and of human personality in this age. Just before the war Jack London was probably the best-known man in the world, apart perhaps from Jack Johnson. (Another figure that many youngsters won't remember.) London's books were famous, his escapades the delight of wicked men and gentle women. He was supposed to be wringing the essence out of American life and showing the stark brutality of it for the first time in print.

Now a biography of London appears and people remember him once again like a far-off memory of their youth, and the young wonder who he was and why such a fuss is being made about him. So men and reputations go in these times, where in former generations they were secure for centuries.

Probably the reason is not that men were greater in olden times, but were less great. So few of them ever amounted to anything that history records the few notables, however mediocre. You can think of scores of poets and writing men in early Britain and later in the Caroline school and among the Victorians who are still remembered, at least in the school books, though they were far less able than London at his best. Half the poets of the language are remembered simply because the schools force them upon the young, who would never bother to read them otherwise.

So little happened in the old world that when a man won a battle or wrote a book or got hanged it was a notable event. People talked about it for years. Nowadays battles are so frequent that if you asked 10 men who was the head of the Allied armies in the Great War, five couldn't answer you, and that's only 20 years ago.

It is a staggering thought that in 50 years most people won't have heard of Bernard Shaw or H. G. Wells or Robert Taylor, and yet they will remember obscure fellows in the Middle Ages who did little of importance and never took a bath.

The trouble is the fierce competition of modern life, when there are so many clever people, so many notables. This is most unfair, when you come to think of it. If you want an enduring reputation, you should get yourself born into an age of stagnation and decay. Then you don't have to be very good to tower above the surrounding landscape. In an age of motion and excitement, nobody has time to look at you.

LONDON'S ATHENAEUM

THE CENTURY-OLD Athenaeum Club of London has always had a good sprinkling of clergymen—especially bishops—in its membership and is, in consequence, traditionally supposed to be the unsafest place in which to leave an umbrella unprotected, unless you want to lose it. But most of the wicked stories about the good bishops and clergy at the Athenaeum were invented by Theodore Hook, the club humorist of its early days. He was wont, we are told, to sit at a table, the centre of attraction, and call for repeated glasses of brandy and water, and delight and convulse his cronies with invented stories about their brother members—the clergy.

Umbrellas, of course, have been in use in the Far East for centuries, but it was not until 1733 that they were introduced in western civilization. And then only as sunshades for ladies. No man ever dreamed of using one.

Then one fine, I mean, wet day, a bold spirit, Jonas Hanway—often called the inventor of the umbrella, which he was not—astounded his fellow citizens by appearing on the street with an umbrella, to keep off the rain. For 30 years he persisted amid general ridicule.

To go back to the Athenaeum: It was in the front hall of the club that Thackeray and Dickens became reconciled after a long estrangement. At the round table in the library, a part of "Henry Esmond" was dictated by Thackeray to Eyre Crowe. At the same table, in after years, Richard Burton doggedly sat through the day, snuffbox at his side, busy on his translation of "Arabian Nights."

In the drawing-room, Anthony Trollope overheard two clergymen complaining that they were tired of the activities of Mrs. Proudie, wife of the Bishop of Barchester. The novelist said to them: "I'll go home and kill her before the week is out," and kept his good-natured promise.

AND NOW FOR SOMETHING THAT IS IMPORTANT

From Ottawa Journal

With the wind hauling round to the northwest, and shorts being packed away, and Jack and Mary being packed back to school, and summer romances beginning to wither already, and a lot of other things happening that have a touch of pathos, it's time to think of football.

What of our Rough Riders? That, to us, is a far more pleasant speculation than this tiresome business of wondering what would happen if Herr Hitler started marching on the Czechs. Hitler may have some fine generals, and all that, but what we'd like to know right now is whether Coach Trimble has got the line-plungers, tacklers and ball-passers that struck terror into the enemy last year.

PRAYER IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY

To the Editor:—In 1922, just before New Year's approach, I was one of the worshippers in the abbey. The service was the most impressive of all my experiences. Organ and voices were well balanced. From a good position I looked into the faces of the men and women, fellow-worshippers, who were there by the thousand, their faces radiant with character and intellectual ability such as never in my whole long life do I ever remember seeing together.

When we think of the last great war and weigh the possibilities of the next, it is proper that the abbey be used, and the might of intelligent work and prayer be made in its appeal to Almighty God to save us from such a calamity that threatens. We in Canada should follow in heart and hand for this end. God save the people.

SAANICH SCHOOL BOARD BRIEFS

Provision for additional transportation for Royal Oak School for the special benefit of children in the Cordova Bay district was made by the board last night. The extra transportation was made necessary by the increase in the registration from this district from 45 to 75 pupils. Following an interview with Harold Husband, general manager, and Thomas Kay of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, one extra bus was added at a cost of $210 a month.

Payment of August and September accounts, totaling $14,648, was authorized.

Children of Saanich schools will be given a holiday next Wednesday on the occasion of the Saanichton fair. Permission to grant the holiday was received by the trustees from Dr. S. J. Willis. Transportation will be provided for the children intending to compete in field events.

Fifteen janitors of various schools under the board's control were met by the trustees and general matters of mutual interest were discussed. The purpose of the meeting was to promote a greater understanding between the board and its employees.

The board replied to Ian Eisenhardt, director of provincial recreation, that a fee of $3 nightly would be charged for the use of Mount View High School auditorium for recreation classes. Mr. Eisenhardt asked the rental be placed at $2, but was informed that would not cover janitorial and other costs.

Must Apply Soon For Scholarship

The choice of the Rhodes Scholar for 1939 will be made by the British Columbia selection committee early in December.

A Rhodes Scholar is elected for two years in the first instance with the opportunity of extension for a third year at Oxford, and in special cases, at other European universities. In most instances the scholars enter Oxford with a degree, and two years' study is sufficient for their bachelor degree. The third year may then be spent in research or working towards further degrees. The stipend is £400 per annum, although the trustees recommend that where possible scholars supplement this by an additional £50 per annum.

Applications must be submitted to the secretary of the selection committee, W. Thomas Brown, 470 Granville Street, Vancouver, before October 31. The general qualifications are that the applicant be a British subject with at least five years' domicile in Canada. He must be unmarried, and must have passed his 25th birthday on October 1 of the year, for which he is elected, and must also by that date have completed two years study at one of the universities in Canada. An applicant may make application for a scholarship in the province in which his home is situated or for any province in which he has received at least two years of his university education before applying.

In making the selection the committee follows these qualifications: Literary and scholastic attainments, qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy, kindliness, unselfishness and fellowship, exhibition of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his fellows and physical vigor, as shown by fondness for, though not necessarily outstanding success in outdoor sports.

Higher Taxation For Australians

CANBERRA (CP-Reuters)—Heavier taxation and a prediction of a small surplus were contained in the Australian budget tabled in the House of Representatives Wednesday by R. G. Casey, Commonwealth treasurer.

New taxation was estimated to yield £3,210,000 ($12,358,500), including a 15 per cent increase in the income tax to yield £1,400,000. The sales tax was increased by 1 per cent to 5 per cent and the land tax was raised 11 per cent.

Total revenue was estimated at £93,162,000 and expenditures at £93,136,000. The budget provides for defence expenditures of £16,796,000.

Revenue for the financial year 1937-38 was £89,458,000 and expenditure £85,963,000.

Insull Estate $1,000

(From the Times Files)

In Victoria the wind reached the gale point at 10.30 yesterday morning and continued until late at night, reaching a velocity of 30 miles an hour.

Every senior soccer club in Victoria had its players out over the week-end, and the teams are rapidly rounding into shape for the opening of the local season on October 4.

Among the factories visited by Fire Chief Davis on his tour, from which he returned today, was the Seagrave factory in Walkerville, Ontario, where the 80-horse-power motor tractor for No. 2 fire engine is under construction. It will be shipped west about October 5.

The employment of alien labor on the Sooke Waterworks undertaking, which has caused considerable discussion in the past, will be made the subject of a report to the City Council this evening from the water commissioner.

Undoubtedly one of the most attractive features at the fall fair, which opens to morrow at the Agriculture Grounds, will be the baby show. Already 600 of the latest and best members of the present generation who have the courage of their convictions are registered to vie with each other in the great contest of beauty, health and other praiseworthy points.

Trustees Save on Insurance Change

Under the new fire insurance policy adopted recently by the Saanich School Board, the trustees will save $1,630.43 spread over the next three years, it was reported to the board last night.

The new policy, giving a total protection of $192,000 over all Saanich schools, costs the board $1,392.62 for three years. Under the former policy held by the board, the cost would have been $3,023.05.

The change in the insurance coverage was made following a complete survey of school assets and properties and the new plan gave a greater measure of coverage and protection.

Winnipeg Poet to Address Club

At its next meeting on Tuesday, September 27, the Women's Canadian Club will have as its speaker, Alan Crawley of Winnipeg, who has entitled his address "The Pleasure in Poetry."

Besides following his law practice in Winnipeg, Mr. Crawley has done a great deal of literary work—literary criticism, radio work and newspaper work.

He speaks pleasingly and interestingly on a subject very near to his own heart, reciting and interpreting both modern and classical poetry, and members are promised a rare treat.

Mrs. J. H. Johns, popular secretary, will be the soloist.

Concert in Aid Of Solarium

An attractive program has been arranged for the concert which is being given tonight at 8 p.m. in the New Thought Hall in aid of the Solarium. The entertainment committee have been fortunate in obtaining the voluntary services of the following artistes: Miss Vivien Combe, well known comedy artist; Mr. James McGrath, of theatrical and motion picture fame; Miss Ins Smith of the Ariel Trio, and little Patricia Richardson of the Florence Clough Academy of Dancing. These, in addition to the interesting movie of the Solarium, its patients and activities and a splendid film of local scenes in natural color to be shown by Mr. Douglas Fintoff, promise to provide an enjoyable entertainment for those patrons who are able to attend.

Woman's Work Sung At Eisteddfod

From MATHILDE
Times Correspondent

LONDON—The first American woman composer ever to have her work sung in a competition at the Eisteddfod in Cardiff is Josephine Forsyth, in private life Mrs. Philip Andrew Myers.

Mrs. Myers is small, blonde, and enthusiastic. She was thrilled about the Eisteddfod, thrilled that her music had been sung there.

"I came over here specially to hear my work sung," she told me, "particularly as its presentation was unique in the history of the Eisteddfod. It is the first time that an American woman composer's work has been a part of this world-famous festival."

The chorus sung was her musical setting of "The Lord's Prayer," arranged for mixed choir by Edwin Arthur Kraft. It was sung by six large choirs from the British Isles, Canada and America.

Diocesan W.A. as Salt Spring Guests

Various Reports Show Much Progress In Work

Many W. A. members enjoyed a delightful trip to Salt Spring Island yesterday, when the monthly Diocesan board meeting of Columbia W.A. was held in the Community Hall at Ganges.

On arrival a short service was held by the rector, Rev. C. W. Popham, who spoke briefly on the mission work being done on the Island among Japanese young people, 18 of whom had been baptized and were now being prepared for confirmation.

Following lunch, the afternoon meeting was opened with prayers read by Mrs. Mackenzie of the Cathedral branch.

A warm welcome to W.A. members was given by Mrs. Stacey of Salt Spring, who presented Mrs. F. J. Brimer with a bouquet of beautiful flowers. Mrs. Popham also added words of welcome.

A standing tribute was paid to members who had passed to higher service: Miss Ard, England; Mrs. Porter, Mayne Island; Mrs. McElfrish, St. Marks, and Mrs. Walker of St. Johns.

The chair was taken by Mrs. Brimer, in the absence of the president, Mrs. D. M. Duncan, who is attending the Dominion annual meetings in London, Ont.

Mrs. Lytton, corresponding secretary, read letters of thanks from Mrs. Weir and Mrs. Pearce, and one from Mrs. Greenway, who was unable to be present at meeting. A letter was read from Lasquiti Island saying they were unable to continue their branch but would work for social service.

The treasurer, Mrs. Bengough, gave her financial statement, and urged members to make special efforts to raise funds for the increased pledge, which is our first thought.

The Dorcas secretary gave a summary of the work; outfitting 15 girls and 10 boys at Alert Bay Indian Residential School and five boys at the Choinela School, Carcross; the sending of bales of clothing to prairie; and the Christmas cheer sent to the Columbia Coast Mission.

Miss Lee, educational secretary, reported that orders for 1939 calendars are now being taken. The lantern slides illustrating the study book, "Builders of the Church in India," were being shown at several city churches in the near future. The social service secretary appealed for men's clothing.

The girls secretary's report showed a new branch being formed at Royston, and Miss Checkley, junior secretary, reported the dolls had been judged in the doll dressing competition and prizes awarded to the winners. The Little Helpers' secretary reported a new branch at St. Peters, Duncan, and told of visits made to several branches.

Miss Gwynne, extra-cents secretary, urged members to put aside one cent a week for this fund and thus raise money for many deserving appeals throughout the Dominion. Miss Mott appealed for more subscribers to the Living Message and Miss Rathbone of the Cathedral spoke of the interesting reading matter found in the magazine. Mrs. F. W. L. Philp appealed for up-to-date novels for the Columbia Mission.

An interesting talk was given by Miss Graves, who with Miss Carlisle visited former St. Christopher College students who are now doing much valuable work on the prairie, by taking church services, preparing candidates for confirmation and taking Brownie and Cub meetings.

Mrs. Niven moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Popham for his address and to Salt Spring Island members for their kind hospitality. The October board meeting will be held in the Cathedral Memorial Hall.

Temperance Study Is Discussed

The provincial W.C.T.U. at its second day of convention in New Westminster included a conference on Sunday school temperance study, which lessons are nation-wide and are watched with interest by such branches in other nations.

Miss Anne Fountain, field secretary of the provincial council of religious education, gave a concise outline of the type of temperance, and Christian living study best suited to the child from infant years to school age, 'teen age and upward. She also spoke of the uses and abuses of alcohol in health and social living today. Miss Fountain closed with an earnest appeal for a reformed adult group of Christians with firm principles and sympathetic helpful understanding of the problems which confront the young individual in his natural wish to be popular in his group. She considered temperance the most preplexing problem in the life of youth today.

The quiet hour was taken by Rev. J. L. Sloat of the Baptist Church, whose topic was "Christ in the Life of the Individual." The communion service was conducted by Rev. F. J. Roulston of the Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. A. W. McIntosh of the United Church.

The afternoon session included scientific temperance instruction among university students by Mrs. R. C. Weldon. Peace and arbitration by Mrs. Rex Eaton and a conference on "Y" work by Miss Edna Grant of Ladner.

NIGHT COUGHING CAN OFTEN BE PREVENTED

If your child often coughs at night because of even a slight cold—do this at bedtime: Thoroughly massage Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest, and back. VapoRub's poultice-vapor action tends to keep the air-passages clear, helping to maintain normal breathing through the nose, and so reducing mouth-breathing (the frequent cause of night coughs). Try it tonight—learn for yourself another reason why VapoRub is a family standby in more homes than all other medications of its kind put together.

English Director For Beaux-Arts

Experienced Theatrical Man Will Guide Victoria Society

The Beaux-Arts Society has secured the services of a profession director for six months in the person of Raymond Guyler, who has recently arrived here from England, accompanied by his wife, known to the stage as Nancy Pritchard.

Work will begin at once in the hall at Duchess Street and Leighton Road, and the experiment is expected to prove most satisfactory.

Members of the club will hold an informal "at home" next Sunday afternoon to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Guyler.

Before they left England Mr. Guyler and his wife were connected with the highly praised religious drama, "Murder in the Cathedral," and when they reached New York early this year he was stage director of the presentation there for three months. He has had long experience on the London stage, playing in most of the famous theatres of that city.

Nancy Pritchard, who will help her husband in his new work in Victoria, was born in Winnipeg, daughter of Rev. E. C. R. Pritchard, now rector of St. Clement's Church in Seattle. She and Mr. Guyler met in London in 1933 when they were playing at the Gate Theatre in a Christmas performance.

Contributions Sought To Help Chinese

Appreciation of contributions towards the purchase of an ambulance to be sent to China is expressed by the Victoria branch of the Canadian Friends of Chinese People, but as the amount on hand to date is considerably short of the objective, further contributions are requested.

Five thousand pamphlets outlining the aims and plans of the group have been distributed throughout the city. Contributions should be addressed to Mrs. Colin H. Rutherford, 1227 Beach Drive, Oak Bay.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. Should you leave a tip in a tearoom if the owner waits on you herself?
2. Is it necessary to leave a tip at a lunch counter?
3. Is it important that any tip be given inconspicuously?
4. Should you insist on giving a tip in a restaurant where there is a "no tipping" rule?
5. Is it necessary to tip a waitress in a cafeteria where carrying your tray to the table is part of the service?

What would you do if—

When you are entertaining guests in a restaurant, you feel that there is a mistake in the addition of the bill—

(a) Pay it without argument to avoid embarrasing your guests?

(b) Unobtrusively ask the waiter if there isn't a mistake?

(c) Let your guests go ahead so that you may adjust the matter?

Housewives' Group Is Dissolved

National President Lays Blame On Communism

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Bertha Lamb, national president of the Housewives' Association of Canada, announced dissolution of the association last night because the "high principles and sincerity of purpose" which brought about its formation last November have been "systematically throttled by the forces of Communism."

Mrs. Lamb in her announcement called upon the Ontario government to investigate immediately the "Communist-inspired activities" of factions which she said were "pledged to the fomenting of discontent in many national organizations."

The Housewives' Association of Canada was formed late last year when the price of milk in Toronto and many other municipalities advanced from 13 to 14 cents a quart. Its organizers said its membership grew to more than 15,000, with branches organized in many cities throughout Canada, including Vancouver and Winnipeg. The price of milk last spring dropped back to 13 cents a quart, but the association continued.

Mrs. Lamb said the originators of the movement has lost control of the conduct of the association.

Avoid "Lop-side" Toys

HOBART, Australia — School Nurse Christine Heinig, in a lecture to mothers, stressed the inadvisability of giving the children toys which tended to develop only one side of the body.

To Help Mothers

LONDON — Erection of marquees in London parks as day nurseries, where children can be left while mothers enjoy some leisure, has been found a successful experiment this summer.

Lusitania "Victim" Returns Home

LONDON — Mrs. Margaret O'Connell, supposed to have gone down with the Lusitania 23 years ago, recently returned home to her mother in Leeds.

Mrs. O'Connell left England 40 years ago at the age of 12 for America. She said she would return "sometime."

In 1915 she wrote to say she was coming home on the Lusitania. Almost as soon as her letter had been received news came through that the liner had been torpedoed with the loss of 1,500 lives.

Naturally all her relatives thought she had been drowned. But last Christmas a message was sent with the simple address "Mrs. Bird, Bramley, Leeds." It reached her sister.

Then her relatives discovered that at the last minute Mrs. O'Connell had changed her mind and had decided not to sail on the Lusitania. She had no idea that her relatives thought she was drowned. She did not write back after changing her mind because she thought they would be angry with her for breaking her promise.

Mrs. O'Connell is 52. She has been widowed twice while in the United States and has five children.

May Disband Great Grads

Canada's Women's Basketball Squad Fails to Draw Support

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Grads may disband because of lack of patronage at Underwood Trophy basketball games here, J. Percy Page, coach of the famous quintette, hinted here yesterday.

"If the time has come when there are not enough people interested in the game to make it possible for us to continue," Page said, "I am sure I am correct in saying that there will be no bitterness on the part of the girls and certainly none on mine."

Page quoted the attendance figures at the two games Grads have played in their current best-of-five challenge series with Canton Engravers for the international trophy.

He intimated the atendance was not enough to gain sufficient finances for the Grads to carry on.

Grads were started in 1914 by Page, principal of MacDougall Commercial High School here, and all but two of the players who have performed on the ever-changing line-up since then have been graduates of his school.

Last night the Grads ended their series with Canton by scoring their third straight victory 68 to 32. In the three games Grads had only 20 more shots than their challengers but they outscored their rivals by better than 2 to 1.

A composite box score of the three games, compiled from official records, showed Grads scored 99 field goals on 327 tries for an average of 19 per cent. The teams broke about even on foul shots, Edmonton scoring 24 of 39 while Canton made good on 27 of 43. Grads' total score through their successive 75-25, 79-32, 68-32 victories was 222 points and Canton's 109.

BRILLIANT SHOOTING

Shooting averages of better than 50 per cent were marked up by two Edmonton players, Captain Noel MacDonald and Jean Williamson. MacDonald was high scorer in every game and in the series had 73 points to her credit, nearly a third of Grads' total.

MacDonald, incidentally, showed better marksmanship on her field shots than on her foul throws. From the floor she tallied 34 of 67 shots and from the foul line five of 14. Williamson made good on 13 of 25 field shots and on her single foul shot.

Freda Savona and Ruth "Susie" Sponseller counted all but six of the points for Canton in the series. Savona, a fast traveling forward, was top Canton scorer with 20 field goals on 91 shots but Sponseller was the most accurate with 19 field goals on 76 shots. Virginia Stratton and Mary Kaiser were the only other Canton players to put the ball through the hoop.

Grads next defence of the cup will be against Wichita Thurstons, runners-up this year to a Galveston, Texas, team in the American Basketball Association's annual tournament. Wichita made its first challenge for the trophy last year and was turned back in three straight games, 53 to 18, 48 to 12 and 46 to 25. Dates for the series are October 1, 3 and 5.

By PETE SALLAWAY

MARK DOWN Frankie Frisch, the late John McGraw's doughty captain and later aggressive pilot of the 1934 St. Louis world baseball champions, as the number three manager to get the boot this season. Frisch thus joins Charley Grimm and Mickey Cochrane on the sidelines. By an odd twist of the fates, these three men were the world series managers of 1934 and 1935. It was Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers against Frisch of the Cardinals four years ago, and Mickey against Grimm of the Cubs the following year.

Frisch went out for the same reason as did the others, disappointment by the front office over his failure to do more with the material handed him. Grimm and Cochrane enjoyed brief winning spurts, shortly before they were asked to step aside, but the die already had been cast against them. Frisch's club, on the other hand, was on a four-game losing streak and blew a six-run lead, September 10, the day before the axe fell. That probably was the last straw.

It had been known, of course, that Branch Rickey, Cardinal vice-president and head man of the Breadon baseball properties, was gunning for the bald scalp of the erstwhile Fordham Flash. Whether rightly or wrongly, Rickey did not think he received sufficient co-operation from Frisch in the handling and developing of young players.

Branch suggested some changes last winter, the conversion of Padgett, an outfielder, into a catcher; Terry Moore, another flychaser, into a third baseman, and Don Gutteridge, a third baseman, into a shortstop. When these moves fizzled, Rickey seemed to get the idea that the New Yorker enjoyed laughing up his sleeve. Anyway, Frankie let it be known he didn't relish Rickey's interference after the players had been turned over to him. Branch, on the other hand, seemed to think Frisch had left him ridiculously out on a limb after Rickey publicly had declared that, outside of pitchers, the 1933 Cardinals were the greatest Redbird team ever put on the road.

For some time, Sam Breadon, who honestly is fond of Frisch, but has little patience with a loser, was on the fence. However, as it became evident the Cardinals could finish no higher than sixth, Breadon eventually strung along with Rickey. It has been an old St. Louis custom for Breadon to change managers during the league season, Rickey, Southworth, Street, and now Frisch, all being relieved while a pennant race was on. In his statement announcing Frank's release, Breadon called attention to the fact that Frisch managed the club longer than anyone else since Rickey—five years. He felt, after that period, a change was in order.

Breadon's greatest source of disappointment is that this 1938 National League race is such an easy one to win. While admitting young pitchers failed to come through, and the spring experiments backfired, he feels that with the batting strength of the club, it should have been far higher.

Mike Gonzales is merely a stopgap pilot. Rickey, no doubt, will elevate one of the managers from a farm team to lead the Redbirds, or reach out for a former member of the club—Burleigh Grimes. He wants a man from whom he thinks he will get better official team play than he seems to think he received from Frisch.

JAI ALAI HITS NEW YORK—Jai Alai, pronounced Hi-Li, the Basque game that has fascinated Latin-American countries and Florida with its speed and the skill of its players, makes its bow at the New York Hippodrome. Segundo slings the ball with terrific speed while paired with Piston, the champion, against Guillermo, right, and Gabriel. Guillermo is ranked at the top among back court players and has the reputation of being the Babe Ruth of the sport because of his hard service. Jai Alai is played on the same principle as squash racquets, but on a much larger court, and play is faster because of the greater distance the ball has to travel. The Hippodrome court is 150 feet long.

Kelconard in Second Straight

Wins Willows Feature as Weight Stops Wracia

It was Kelconard from wire to wire in the Cowichan Handicap at Willows race track yesterday. Finding the soft track perfect to his taste the son of Slievecon-ard cut out a fast pace in front of the Bar Ace Stable's Lovesick and scored a comfortable win over J. A. Evans' Billy Easter, which had dead-heated him last time they met on Friday.

The race was a disappointment for the midweek crowd as it saw Herb Fullerton's Wracia, a hot favorite, run out of the money. A load of 118 pounds proved too much for the mare. Kelconard started at 6 to 1.

Outside of the feature favorites had a gala day, however, taking the long end of the purse in five events. Weneedit and Frenchman, both public choices, combined in a $17.45 daily double. Telepathy, an even money shot, scored easily in the fourth, and Happy Returns, at 2 to 1, made every post a winner. Victor of War, at 5 to 2, completed the favorites' day in the last.

R. K. Shearer's Moonsan made it two wins in successive days when he copped the day's opener, but he made it an easier victory than the three-nose finish of Tuesday.

Riding competition was keen. None of the boys got more than one winner.

Ferguson Heads Tenpin Bowlers

Jim Ferguson was elected president of the Senior Tenpin League of the Olympia Bowling Alleys at the annual meeting held Tuesday night. Jack Howell was chosen vice-president and Wilf Johnston secretary. Bob Watson is honorary president and Horace Beer, honorary vice-president.

The new season will start next Tuesday evening at 9. Four teams are entered, Straiths, Poodle Dog Cafe, Watson's Men's Wear and Five Roses Flour. Any new bowlers who would like to bowl in the senior section are asked to leave their names with the alley management.

Basketball League Meeting on Monday

The Victoria City and District Basketball League will hold an important meeting in the Colonist boardroom Monday evening at 8. All delegates and members of the executive are asked to attend. Entries will be accepted at this meeting.

Everything was even-Steven in the Coast Baseball League Shaughnessy playoffs yesterday.

Los Angeles Angels, pennant winners, squared accounts with Sacramento Senators last night by coming from behind in the last of the seventh with a three-run attack to win 8 to 5. The Senators took the opener Tuesday.

At Seattle the Rainiers punched out seven runs in the third inning and easily defeated San Francisco Seals 11 to 6 to make up for the 4 to 2 beating the Seals dished out Tuesday.

The Angels bunched seven of their 10 hits in the fourth and seventh innings to score three runs in each.

Four hits, one a triple and another a double, an error and three walks accounted for Seattle's seven scores in the third. The Seals were leading 1 to 0 when the Rainiers unlimbered their attack.

MAJOR LEAGUES

Pittsburgh Pirates seemed today to be the one ball team the current rains couldn't hurt.

Even if it kept raining the figurative 40 days and 40 nights until the National Baseball League season ends, Pie Traynor and his Pirates would bounce into the world series anyway.

All in all, you couldn't blame Traynor much if he just sat and prayed for rain to last until the October 2 finale, and then continue right on through the month after that. Because after the pennant chase is over, his boys—if they win—still have the New York Yankees coming up.

But the rain knocked huge holes in the hopes of Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds. Every game rained out in the first division this week—and there has been a record number of 14 of them—can be marked down in the Bucs' victory column, for if they don't play they can't lose.

When the second-place Cubs and third-place Reds, three and a half and five games back, respectively, are the victims, they can't win—and so have no chance to catch up with the Pirates. The Bucs had two of their toughest eastern games washed off the schedule entirely—with Brooklyn Dodgers, who have raised more hob with the pace-setters this season than any other outfit.

TOUGH FOR CUBS

As matters now stand, the Pirates can play .500 ball in their 12 remaining games and still be fairly sure of grabbing the pennant, for in that case the Cubs would have to click for more than .800 per cent in 13 remaining starts. Even if the Cubs don't lose another game, the Bucs can still afford to drop three of 12.

There has been only one National League tilt since Sunday, and that one saw Paul the Daffy Dean, in his second comeback start for the St. Louis Cardinals, pitch a seven-hitter to blank Boston Bees, 4 to 0, yesterday. Ducky Medwick drove in all the runs.

The Yankees, who have been more chumps than champs since

PLAN HOCKEY RULE CHANGES

Five Major Amendments Before N.H.L. and C.A.H.A. Officials

TORONTO (CP) Rules committee members of the National Hockey League and the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association will meet here tomorrow to draft a uniform set of playing rules.

Five major changes will be before the meeting, to be attended by Prof. W. G. Hardy of Edmonton, president of the C.A.H.A., and by President Frank Calder of Montreal and all N.H.L. managers.

Suggested rule changes would have the following results:

A player will not be considered offside as long as all parts of his skates are onside. He can reach over the line and play the puck with his stick, as skates, not body, will count.

The size of the goaler's marked area will be reduced from 10 feet across and six feet deep to seven feet across and three deep.

Players will be permitted to skate over the penalty line after making a penalty shot.

When a team clears the puck from its defence zone, the puck must travel across the penalty line in the other defence zone before a face-off will be called in the defence zone of the team that cleared the puck.

A 12-inch blue line will be standard.

Eastern Sport Is Washed Out

Tennis, Golf, Baseball and Football Games Postponed

NEW YORK (AP) — The tail of a hurricane swept through the United States east yesterday upsetting the best-laid plans of tennis officials, golf promoters and baseball managers.

At Forest Hills, N.Y., where the United States singles championships were in progress—until last Saturday—rain set a record for consecutive washouts by causing the fourth straight postponement of play. Courts were in such poor condition, the matches were postponed until tomorrow at the earliest.

The richest golf tournament in recent years, the 108-hole Westchester, also was put over until tomorrow morning, when half the field of 275 will start the first 18 holes.

In New York, Pittsburgh Pirates of the National Pro Football League practiced in the ballroom of their hotel.

Ball players, presented in the east with a three-day vacation, started to fret with another day's postponement. Only St. Louis and Boston in the east were able to play, and they only got through the first game of their double bill. Pittsburgh Pirates, still holding their 3½-game lead in the National Baseball League, were washed out at Brooklyn; Cincinnati Reds and New York Giants were unable to play at New York and Chicago Cubs and Phillies were unable to play at Philadelphia.

Zimmerman Champ

Portland Pro Has 11 Under Par 277 to Capture Third P.N.W. Open Golf Title; Leonard Second

SEATTLE (AP)—Al Zimmerman of Portland won his third Pacific northwest open golf title yesterday with a sensational 11-under-par 72-hole score of 277 at the Earlington Golf Club.

Zimmerman, a professional, spurted into the lead on his final round after being tied with Neil Christian, Yakima professional seeking his fourth P.N.W. title, at the 54-hole mark.

Christian skidded on the final 18, blowing three strokes to par on the last two holes, and finished in a tie for third place with Freddie Wood, Vancouver, B.C., professional. They had 282s.

Stan Leonard, another Vancouver, B.C., pro, who was defending champion, slid into second place, three strokes behind Zimmerman, with a 280.

Zimmerman was the third golfer to win the Pacific northwest open crown three times. Others were Christian, who won it in 1924, 1929 and 1932, and Jim Barnes, old-timer formerly of Tacoma and Spokane, who came through three times before moving east.

Zimmerman's previous wins were in 1931 and 1933.

Scores of the top four men:

Al Zimmerman, Portland, 69-69-69-70—277.

Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C., 76-67-73-69—280.

Freddie Wood, Vancouver, B.C., 72-68-72-70—282.

Neil Christian, Yakima, 72-65-70-75—282.

Zimmerman's 20-foot putt on the 72nd hole halted at the lip of the cup, or he would have had four straight 69s.

Jack Westland, Seattle, amateur and former Walker Cupper, was the low amateur with 141-143—284. He tied with Chuck Congdon, Tacoma pro, who had 141-143—284.

WIN GOLF CUP

In the final of the Allen Cup competition at the Macaulay Point Golf Club Miss H. Irvine and G. S. Brown defeated Miss M. Thorne and T. G. Harris, 1 up.

Victoria Billiard Team Loses Match

An 11-man veterans' billiard team from Duncan, defeated the Pro Patria Branch squad, 1,780 to 1,575, after keenly-fought matches last night in the latter's clubrooms, Courtney Street. In an earlier tournament held in Duncan the up-island team won handily.

In a number of the matches the locals provided the visitors with good competition, but in the aggregate point count the Duncanites had a 215-point margin.

Scores follow:

Duncan—A. Leeming, 250; W. Mowbray, 191; H. Helen, 167; J. Anderson, 150; H. Anderson, 150; S. Saunders, 150; E. Forrest, 145; G. Jarvis, 150; B. McNichol, 127; B. Powell, 150, and B. Doney, 150.

Cricket Trophy Won By Five C's

Defeat Victoria Club 136 to 76 in Berger Cup Final

Five C's cricket eleven took possession of the Berger Cup yesterday afternoon when they defeated Victoria Cricket Club in the final at Beacon Hill Park. This was the concluding match of the Wednesday League season. The score was 136 to 76.

Victoria Club, batting first, got off to a fine start. They put on 55 runs for the first two wickets, but after Sparks and Smith had left, nobody was able to stay with the veteran G. C. Grant, and the last six wickets only added six runs. Grant was not out for a useful innings of 15.

Five C's were weak at the start of their innings at bat and lost the first two wickets for the cheap sum of 17 runs. Lea went in to join Griffin and they carried the score to 58 before the former was bowled by Macdonald. Shortly afterwards, Griffin made the winning hit, with McIlvenny as his partner. In Griffin's innings of 78 were 12 fours and one six.

McIlvenny had the fine analysis of five wickets for 17 runs for Five C's and Grant took four wickets for 46 runs for Victoria.

B.C. Moguls Turn Down Application

Victoria United To Be Given First Consideration for Franchise

VANCOUVER (CP) — The application of Victoria Elks for a franchise in the Intercity Football League was turned down by the British Columbia soccer commission, Secretary John Richardson announced after a meeting here late yesterday.

Richardson issued the following statement in connection with the commission's decision: "In the event of there being an Intercity League, the application of Victoria United all-star team will be given first consideration."

Richardson explained that the commission would meet in two or three weeks and decide whether an Intercity League would be organized again this year.

Last year the league operated with five teams of the Mainland Soccer League, St. Andrews, North Shore United, St. Saviours, New Westminster Royals and Vancouver Radials, in addition to Victoria United and Nanaimo Upper Island all-stars.

Yesterday's meeting was the third in the last week to decide on the Elks' application. It met last Saturday night in Victoria and again in Vancouver on Monday.

With the question of the Elks' application settled it is now expected the Saturday League will go ahead with plans for the coming season.

Teams in the league have been working under a handicap the last few weeks as players were not anxious to sign up until they learned just what action would be taken regarding the Elks' franchise. Just what action is left for the Elks to take is doubtful but it is not likely the new organization will carry the matter any further.

Last season five clubs, Victoria West, Victoria City, Saanich Thistles, Garrison and Esquimalt, operated in the Saturday League. Whether or not the same clubs will be in operation this season is not known.

Patty Berg Brilliant

Four Down at Turn, Minnesota Star Blasts Way to Victory in U.S. Golf

CHICAGO (AP)—Patty Berg packed another charge of dynamite into the women's United States golf championship yesterday.

The sensational Minneapolis girl, winner of a match Tuesday by 10 and 8 "shutout" margin, advanced this afternoon to the quarterfinals, and her performance overshadowed all other developments.

Four down at the turn of her match with Eva Shrob of Massillon, O., the Minnesota star rammed a blast of par and subpar golf on the final nine to gain a one-up, third-round victory.

In a morning match she had defeated Jean Bauer, East Providence, R.I., 4 and 3.

Other favorites came through as expected. Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Chapel Hill, N.C., defending champion, whipped Helen Waterhouse, Warwick, R.I., 3 and 2, and then downed Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Texas, 4 and 2.

FAVORITES ADVANCE

Dorothy Traung of San Francisco, co-medialist with Mrs. Page, scored a one-up victory in 19 holes over Mrs. Diana Fishwick Critchley of England in the morning, and then a 3 and 1 triumph over Mrs. Charles Newbold, Wichita, Kas.; Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., defeated Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Ga., 1 up, 19 holes, and routed Kathryn Hamphill of Columbia, S.C., 5 and 3.

Today's quarterfinal pairings sent Mrs. Page against Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, Texas, who defeated Helen Dettweiller of Washington, D.C., 4 and 3, and Ellamae Williams, Chicago, 7 and 5.

The other upper bracket match will be between Mrs. E. R. Hury, Dallas, Tex., and Peggy Graham, Hollywood, Cal.

Mrs. Hurly elimnated Harriet Randall, Indianapolis, 5 and 3, and Clarrie Tiernan of Island, last of the British contingent, 2 up. Miss Graham advanced by downing Jessie Anderson of Perth, Scotland, in the morning, 2 and 1, and Mrs. Harry McNaughton, Great Neck, N.W., 2 and 1.

In the lower bracket, Miss Traung opposed Miss Berg. The other duel is between Miss Miley and Marian McDougall of Portland.

BASKETBALL SITUATION

To the Sports Editor:—The free-for-all over who has the High School gym, and when, is starting up again for the basketball season.

One factor which seems to have been overlooked is that the High gym is not really worth fighting over. In past years, hundreds have been turned away from the important games, and hundreds were cramped and jammed into the small sections allotted to spectators, which threaten often to overlap the playing floor. This all seems far from satisfactory. The Dominoes can make $5,000 a year. With more and better accommodation they could double that, considering those who are turned away, don't like to stand, or just can't get tickets.

So why doesn't the Domino organization, with the help of the few business men in town who are awake, build a new gym big enough to hold all of the most enthusiastic basketball fans in Canada. It could be made big enough to facilitate box lacrosse, which is a coming sport in Victoria.

Then the V.B.L. could have the High gym entirely for their workout and games, which only draw small crowds—and everyone would be happy. Surely this project could be worked out on a purely commercial basis and be successful.

Victoria has a colorful basketball team and a constantly growing, enthusiastic following, which surely deserves something more than to be packed into the important games like sardines, year after year. Without a real good senior A team such as the Dominoes, basketball wouldn't amount to much in Victoria, and without basketball what have we for thrills? Hockey broadcasts would have to satisfy—and perhaps would, if we had television.

This all from one who is disgusted with the feeble efforts to build an ice arena.

ELKS CALL MEETING

Members of the organizing committee of the Elks football club and those players who have been in touch with Jimmy Hall, and others who are interested, are asked to attend a meeting in the Elks Club tomorrow evening at 8.30.

Lacrosse Teams Continue Final

Those two evenly-matched and hard-fighting box lacrosse teams, Bluebirds and James Bay, will lock horns in the second game of their intermediate city championship series tomorrow night at the Athletic Park.

The battle will be staged under the floodlights, starting at 8.

Bays, although beaten by five goals in the opening encounter last week, put up a great fight. There was plenty of action for the 400 fans attending. An equally thrilling duel should be witnessed when the Bays go gunning for revenge tomorrow night.

Another win for Bluebirds, however, would write finis to the series, as that would give them the championship.

Popham and Baker will referee.

Jimmy Foxx's 47th four-bagger paced Boston Red Sox to an 8 to 4 margin over the St. Louis Browns in the only other game that wasn't drowned out.

Reply Made to Tobacco Report

Imperial Company Says Resale Price Maintenance Is in Public Interest

MONTREAL (CP) — The "resale price maintenance" policy of the Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada was defended by Gray Miller, company president, in a statement issued last night following release of a report at Ottawa alleging existence of an unlawful price combine in Canada's tobacco industry.

Mr. Miller's statement follows:

"We have just been shown a press release issued by Mr. F. A. McGregor, commissioner of the Combines Investigation Act, containing a summary of a report made by Mr. McGregor to the Minister of Labor of an investigation into an alleged combine in the tobacco industry, and dealing particularly with the resale price maintenance policy of this company.

"Resale price maintenance is not a policy adopted by the Imperial Company alone but by nearly all manufacturers of cigarettes and tobacco in Canada, and is practiced by many industries in Great Britain as well as by many other businesses in Canada.

"The policy in question was adopted in the sincere belief that it would be not only in the interest of wholesalers and retailers by assuring them of a fair margin of profit, but also in the best interest of the public as a whole, including Canadian tobacco farmers. This policy is well known to everybody in the tobacco business and has met with general approval.

"The practical benefit to the Canadian economy under this policy is in our opinion far greater than could possibly accrue under a laissez-faire system of distribution.

TAX INCREASE

"Prices of cigarettes and tobacco to consumers in Canada have not been increased, as is evident from the fact that today's prices are not more and in many cases are less than prices prevailing prior to the war, notwithstanding substantial increases in taxes and duties.

"From the first we have welcomed the investigation conducted by Mr. McGregor and lent him every assistance, and I be-believe that any contravention of the Combines Act that may have taken place is merely technical. It remains to be seen whether or not we have really erred in our interpretation of this very complex act. . . .

"In conclusion, we welcome this inquiry, which really rests upon an intricate economic question on which there is great divergence of opinion, and we trust that the result may bring about a better understanding of the practical benefits to be derived from reasonably regulated merchandising practices."

Paper was made by the ancient Egyptians, the Greeks after Alexander, and later the Romans, by overlaying thin strips of the stem or pith of the papyrus plant at right angles. Soaking, pressing and drying followed.

PITY THE CADDIES — Halted by darkness after 13 hours and 20 minutes, Sue Riley and L. M. (Pie) Pieffer played 180 holes to claim a world record for mixed marathon golfing in Akron, Ohio. Miss Riley, 31-year-old grocery storekeeper, averaged 85 strokes. Women's par was 74.

Canadians Were In Godesberg

At Great War's Close Troops Where Premier and Hitler Were Today

Jack Brayley of the Canadian Press London staff spent his vacation this summer at Godesberg, where today Prime Minister Chamberlain and Reichsfuehrer Hitler conferred. He wrote the following story on Canada's post-war association with the Rhineland town:

LONDON—The famous Rhineside hotel, Dreesenhof, in Godesberg, Germany, where Prime Minister Chamberlain met Reichsfuehrer Hitler today, once echoed to the songs and laughter of Canadian troops who formed a part of the army of occupation at the close of the Great War.

Beneath the roof where the Union Jack flew again today for the first time since the Canadians marched away, the democratic and authoritarian representatives discussed the fate of Czechoslovakia.

Old Rhinelanders recall other days when "the Canadians treated us best of all the Allies" by shutting their eyes to food smuggling during the post-war blockade.

Frau Alice Graefinghoff recently told the Canadian Press how Canadians smuggled across the Rhine the body of a farmer's wife, using such a ferry as today carried Mr. Chamberlain from Konigsberg, at the foot of Petersberg, where his hotel is perched, to the conference room in Godesberg.

COMMISSION OBJECTED

The Canadians helped a farmer whose wife died on the Godesberg side while he was living on the Petersberg side. He appealed to the Allied commission for permission to take the body across for burial.

Refused, the distraught farmer told Canadians his story and they agreed to help. She was a big woman and it took eight soldiers to carry the body by night to the ferry.

Aging Nazis who revere the place as one of Hitler's favorite hostels, also remember Canadian kindness in the bitter post-war days.

"So," said Frau Grafinghoff, "we honor the hotel for both its association with Der Fuehrer and the Canadians."

Call on Banks to Pay

EDMONTON (CP) — Determined to see legislation enforced and payments due the government under legislation are made, the Alberta government has sent letters to the banks declaring that if payments of the surtax on banks, authorized by a special act passed at the last session of the Legislature, are not made by September 26, the Attorney-General's department will be instructed to act to enforce payment. A total of about $106,000 is involved this year and a similar amount next year.

Stursberg Finds Religion Dead Issue in Russia

By PETER STURSBERG IN RUSSIA.

THERE ARE NO more anti-religious demonstrations in the Soviet Union. You seldom hear of the League of the Militantly Godless which once claimed 6,000,000 members. It is difficult to find anti-religious sentiments among the slogans plastered over factories and public buildings.

There are still so-called anti-religious museums, but I went to three or four of them and I found them very much like ordinary museums. I saw no caricatures of Christ or even of priests which I confidently expected to find. In fact, as I have said, they were drearily like ordinary museums, with the ornaments and ikons kept well preserved and neatly labelled.

Of course most of these museums are housed in former churches and some of them are nothing but the church. To visit them is just like walking into a church in any other country.

Does this mean to say that the Bolshevik has had a change of heart and has grown tolerant toward religion? On the contrary, he believes he has found out there is no more need for most of these forms of propaganda.

As far as I could gather, religion is absolutely a dead issue in the Soviet Union. The number of people attending services of any kind, be they Protestant, Catholic or Orthodox; Christian, Mohammedan or Jewish; is so infinitesimal, it is negligible.

A whole new generation has grown up under the Soviet system. Wrongly, I think, it has been said this generation has been taught nothing of God. It has learned of God from history books if nothing else.

From conversation with some young and middle-aged Russians I learned that they looked upon religion much as we look upon superstition, only with more contempt. It is possible that their scorn keeps many of the old people away from churches, for there is no persecution now.

You can still go to church in Russia if you want to, but it is pretty difficult to find out where there is a service. Most of the Russians do not even know which day is Sunday as they have a six-day week.

What has happened to the churches of which Russia had more than its share? Most of them have been torn down. Many more are going to be torn down, some of these serving as dormitories for college students. Only those churches of historical or architectural value will be preserved.

THE LAVRA AT KIEV is one of the so-called anti-religious museums of the Soviet Union. All the Communists have done is to turn the light not so much of science but of electricity on the black catacombs of this grizzly monastery.

Since earliest times, the Lavra had been a burying place. During the rebuilding following a fire in the 18th century, so that The monastery is of typical Russian ecclesiastical architecture with its cluster of golden cupolas on the banks of the Dnieper. Since earliest times, the Lavra had been a burying place, and during the rebuilding following a fire in the eighteenth century a number of well-preserved bodies were found.

These were declared by the metropolitan of the church to be the bodies of saints whose saintliness had prevented their disintegration. In reality they were due to the peculiarly dry properties of the soil in the district. All this the guide tells you.

Thousands of pilgrims came and paid to see these mummified saints, and the monastery grew tremendously rich. At the height of its prosperity, the Lavra owned 56,000 serfs, 189 villages, beside vast estates and many factories. In 1917 it took an active part against the revolution. All this the guide tells you.

In the main church of the monastery you see the winch and cable with which the very holy ikon of the Mother God of Assumption was raised and lowered. On special occasions the Mother God of Assumption was declared to float up and down in the air. The crowd of half-crazed pilgrims never saw the thin cable in the cloud of incense, never dared to look behind the screen for the room where a priest wound the winch. This simple bit of fakery which a third-rate magician would scorn netted the Lavra 70,000 roubles a year.

In another part of the church is a coffin which was supposed to contain little bits of bones of many saints. At a nominal charge, a pilgrim could kiss the coffin just above the bit of bone of the particular saint he wished to supplicate. When the coffin was opened it was found to contain nothing but wood shavings.

Before entering the dank, cold, but now light catacombs, you see the forest of collection boxes which have been brought out of the underground passages. The catacombs contained 113 bodies, only 33 of which were found to be genuine. The rest were assorted bones, some of them not even human, dressed up in clothing or just left as they were, for by candle light it would be difficult to tell what was a mummy and what was not.

One of the most vicious of these falsifications is a bunch of bones which was declared to be the body of a particular saint who was supposed to have been crucified by the Jews. Above it is a picture of the Crucifixion, with some horrible caricatures of Jews. This was an incitement to pogrom.

Then you see slabs of dark glass in the walls of the catacombs. These were windows, the pilgrims were told, behind which lived holy men in eternal darkness. There is nothing behind the slabs of dark glass.

Protest Police Action in Riot

Victoria Trades and Labor Council, at a meeting last night, voted to assist a delegation which will come to see the government shortly concerning the Blubber Bay labor riot last Saturday night.

Colin Cameron, M.P.P. for Comox, and Harold Winch, M.P.P. for Vancouver East, will lead the delegation, the council was informed. A committee was named to arrange a mass meeting for these men to speak.

Eight Lawyers In Crash Case

Collision Action in Appeal Court Expected to Last Several Days

An array of legal talent crowded the bar today as the appeal in the automobile crash case of John Edwin Funk vs. E. K. Pinkerton and Roy McKinley, third party, and consolidated actions opened before the Court of Appeal. Eight barristers appeared for various parties.

C. H. Locke, K.C., assisted by K. L. Yule, represents the appellant Pinkerton, and W. S. Owen, assisted by J. A. MacLennan, the respondent Funk. Others on the case are D. J. McAlpine, P. S. Marsden, G. Roy Long and John Farris.

The appeal is being heard by the Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Macdonald and Mr. Justice Sloan.

Prior to the opening of the case, Mr. Locke informed the court he anticipated the hearing would take three or four days and asked if the court would be prepared to adjourn the date of the Macchione murder appeal, set for hearing Monday, until its completion.

The request was declined.

Another motion to consolidate the appeals, following consolidation of the cases in the court below, was allowed.

CASE SUMMARY

The actions arose over a head-on collision on the Port Moody-Vancouver highway on August 14, 1937, in which Dr. Pinkerton and Roy McKinley were drivers of the two cars involved. Both had passengers. Question arose over which car was on the right side of the road.

Funk, a passenger in the McKinley car, sued Pinkerton and Pinkerton added McKinley as a third party.

In a second action, R. McKinley and his wife sued Pinkerton, who counterclaimed against McKinley.

Mrs. Kitty Mitchell and her husband, in McKinley's car, instituted a third action against Pinkerton and McKinley.

Three passengers in Pinkerton's car, Mrs. James Wilson, Miss Jean Wilson and Mrs. Florence McKay, sued both Pinkerton and McKinley.

The actions were consolidated by the order of Mr. Justice Murphy on February 4, 1938, and tried before the Chief Justice without a jury at Vancouver. The trial, lasting seven days, started on March 9.

There was conflict of evidence on which car was on the right side. The Chief Justice said the collision occurred on the road centre and both drivers were held equally at fault.

Funk, a man of 62, who sustained severe injuries, was awarded special damages of $4,096.50 plus general damages of $19,310 from Pinkerton, who secured an order calling for contribution of half by McKinley.

Mrs. Mitchell was awarded $7,000 general damages from both equally and her husband got special damages of $943.10.

Other awards were as follows: Florence McKay, $1,828.95; Mrs. James Wilson, $1,572.10; James Wilson, $50; Jean Wilson, $1,297.55; Mrs. McKinley, $200; Roy L. McKinley, $837.67, and Pinkerton, $739.

The appeal was taken by Pinkerton.

Growers Vote Against Control

British Columbia hothouse tomato and cucumber growers have voted against continuation of the marketing board which controls their product, Neil Pollock, returning officer, announced.

A mail vote showed 77 in favor of discontinuing the board and 51 in favor of retaining it. On Vancouver Island the vote was 56 to 22 and on the lower mainland 21 to 22, while the interior voted seven solid votes to retain the board.

It was explained the vote was in the nature of a "straw" ballot to get the feeling of the growers.

What action will be taken as a results awaits the return of Hon. K. C. Macdonald, Minister of Agriculture, to Victoria on Saturday.

Visiting Victoria From Washington

Vancouver Island has been a popular holiday ground this summer for people from Washington, D.C., a larger number than ever before from the United States capital coming to Victoria during their visits to the Pacific Coast.

Today there were six residents of Washington at the Empress Hotel.

They were Colonel G. W. Stuart, United States Army and Mrs. Stuart; Mrs. Lillian Suit and Mrs. Maizie Pervill and Mr. and Mrs. William Montgomery.

Others in town today include Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Phillips, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Brittain, Westmount, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson, Penticton, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Dagleish, Vancouver.

A number of Vancouver and Seattle people came to Victoria today to meet friends and relatives arriving from Australia and Hawaii by Ms. Aorangi, which docked at the noon hour.

Several of the Aorangi's passengers had luncheon at the Empress Hotel before transferring to the Seattle boat.

Leadership Open

Conservatives Gather at Kamloops Tomorrow to Select Chieftain and Revise Platform

In the historic town of Kamloops on the banks of the Thompson River, Conservatives of British Columbia this week-end will place their mantle around a man who will be assigned the duty of leadership.

Who this man will be is the big question mark in provincial politics today.

The scene at Kamloops as the two-day party convention opens tomorrow will be vaguely reminiscent of the turbulent gathering in 1926 when the late from his Ottawa post to accept Dr. Simon F. Tolmie was recalled the leadership when the late W. J. Bowser, K.C., and Leon Ladner were deadlocked for the honor. Dr. Tolmie led the party into office at the next election, but it was just for one term.

Today there is some similarity to that situation. Herbert Anscomb of Victoria and R. L. Maitland, K.C., of Vancouver, stand out as the chief organization candidates. Each has a strong fellowing of delegates and while no one can predict which way a party convention will swing it is almost certain the choice will go to several ballots.

There is other leadership timber in the picture, some of which might show surprising strength in early ballots, or find favor if a compromise candidate is required. Howard Green, young member of the House of Commons from Vancouver South; Capt. Macgregor Macintosh, the whip of the party in the Legislature; Mayor Thomas A. Love of Grand Forks, a long-time figure in municipal life, and T. G. Norris, K.C., of the Okanagan are among those mentioned.

The man to be chosen will pick up the reins dropped by Dr. Frank Patterson, who died after only one session in the Legislature.

Most of the delegates from Lower Vancouver Island, who are leaving today for Kamloops, are believed to be supporting Mr. Anscomb for the leadership, although they have not publicly stated their intentions. Approximately 50 are going from Victoria, 12 from Saanich and about the same number from Esquimalt. F. A. Willis, who will be the returning officer for balloting, and R. D. Harvey, president of Victoria Conservative Association, left last night.

The new leader of the party will have three years in which to solidify the ranks in preparation for the next general election. There may be some by-elections before that time in which he can test his strength but they are not in the offing yet.

In view of this the party is expected to give full attention at the convention to revision of its platform of 1936. Several planks will need amending and there is expected to be a drive from the more liberal-minded section of the delegates for changes in the social outlook of the party.

Salmon Canning In B.C. Reviewed

G. J. Alexander, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, at Rotary Luncheon

George J. Alexander, deputy Commissioner of Fisheries for the province of British Columbia, gave interesting information on salmon canning in British Columbia at the regular luncheon meeting of the Victoria Rotary Club, in the Empress Hotel today.

The value of salmon canning in the province annually, the speaker said, ranged from $8,000,000 to $12,000,000. There were from 15,000 to 20,000 persons employed in the industry, directly and indirectly. Thirty-eight canneries were in operation in the province during the last year, and $12,000,000 to $14,000,000 worth of equipment was used. In addition, the value of the boats and fishing gear used in British Columbia amounted to approximately $9,000,000.

The history of fish canning, which started in 1820, was reviewed by the speaker and the improvement in methods were noted.

During the meeting William F. Kennedy, chairman of the Government Liquor Control Board, and E. H. Horsey, of the B.C. Electric Power and Light, were introduced by James H. Beatty, as new members of the local Rotary Club.

G. Hamilton Harman, president, was in the chair.

Aldermen Guests At Concert Party

Three hundred and twenty veterans representing the Canadian Legion members from Duncan and the Pro Patria Branch of the Legion, attended a smoking concert held last night in honor of the Mayor and City Council at Pro Patria Branch.

Alderman Stanley H. Okell represented Mayor Andrew McGavin, who was unable to attend owing to previous engagements. Seated at the head table with A. E. Hull, branch president, were Aldermen Robert Dewar, W. H. Davies, Lloyd Morgan, James Adam and Alex Peden.

The program, which was under the able direction of J. P. J. Collins, was featured by songs, skits, marionette shows and band music.

A series of songs was given by P. Brady and G. Durham, R. Potts gave an exhibition of tap dancing. Tom Obee and Stanley James contributed a pair of comic songs and Johnny Gow presented his amusing puppet show. One of the novelty selections of the evening was provided by a harmonica band under the direction of J. Short.

Paraffin wax can be made harder than steel by subjecting it to a pressure of 200,000 pounds a square inch.

Venus's flower basket, a glass-like sponge of the ocean depths, is so fragile that a slight touch of the hand will crush it, yet it lives continually under the terrific water pressure at the bottom of the sea.

Output of B.C. Coal Is Lower

British Columbia's coal production during the month of August was 108,119 tons, as compared with 121,147 tons in the same month last year, according to the monthly report of the Chief Inspector of Mines issued today.

Vancouver Island output declined the most with 44,918 tons compared with 66,388 tons. In this district, Canadian Collieries Limited turned out 27,682 tons, Western Fuel Corporation 16,371 tons and the five smaller collieries had a combined output of 865 tons.

Nicola-Princeton district output increased during the month with 13,702 tons compared with 11,904 tons. Granby No. 1 Colliery turned out 5,876 tons, Coalmont Collieries Limited 5,542 tons, Middlesboro Collieries Limited 1,998 tons, Princeton-Tulameen Colliery 255 tons and Black Mine 32 tons.

West Kootenay district also showed a gain in production with 49,499 tons against 42,519 tons. Michael Colliery output was 38,154 tons and Coal Creek Colliery 11,345 tons.

Film Director Holidays Here

Jack Conway in City After Big Game Hunting Expeditions

John T. "Jack" Conway, one of the men who directs the stars of Hollywood in their pictures, and his attractive wife, a daughter of Francis X. Bushman, are holidaying in Victoria, where they are guests at the Empress Hotel.

For the last few weeks Mr. Conway has been on a hunting expedition in the interior of British Columbia. He spent most of his time in the beautiful, mountainous country, north of Mount Robson.

Two big grizzlies, two caribou and a moose were bagged by the famous director. They will be mounted in Canada and then sent to Beverly Hills, where they will hang in places of honor in the Conway mansion, in the midst of the movie colony.

Mrs. Conway met her husband in Vancouver, and they came here together to celebrate the 20th anniversary of their wedding.

Mr. Conway, who is connected with Metro-Goldwyn-Meyer, said he was so impressed with the interior of this province that he conceived several ideas that he hoped would develop into motion pictures with a British Columbia locale. He thinks the Mount Robson country would be a magnificent spot to shoot a picture with an "outdoor" plot.

Clark Gable planned to make the hunting expedition with Mr. Conway but last-minute business precluded this. The star's guns came north, however, with the Conway baggage, and it was one of his that was used by Conway to kill his first big grizzly.

Conway and his wife will enjoy a quiet holiday of a few days in Victoria before returning south.

THISTLES MEET

QUERY LIABILITY OF STEPFATHER

Judgment Reserved in Vancouver Car Accident Appeal

The guardianship responsibilities of a stepfather and the liability of a car owner for damages arising out of a crash in which the owner was not the driver were argued before the Court of Appeal today as the appeal of W. J. Wilson and Harry Yates against a damage award by Mr. Justice Fisher to John Byrne and Nellie Byrne was completed.

Judgment was reserved.

Claim was made by the Byrnes when Mrs. Byrne sustained injuries from an accident in which she was struck by a car driven by Harry Yates, on Hastings Street, Vancouver. Mrs. Byrne was found 50 per cent negligent in the case and was given judgment for $2,646.17.

On behalf of the appellant Yates, counsel claimed there was no evidence of negligence. For the appellant Wilson counsel contended there was no more liability through guardianship responsibilities than if he were a brother-in-law.

J. E. Eades, for the respondent, sought to establish liability on Wilson on the grounds he had signed the minor's application for a driver's license and was owner of the car, which, counsel claimed, was driven by Yates as an agent.

L. H. Jackson appeared for the appellant.

Sonja Henie At Capitol

Colorful Skater Featured in Ice Ballet in "My Lucky Star"

By far the most colorful and spectacular number Sonja Henie has yet attempted, her "Alice in Wonderland" ice ballet presents in amazing Henie fashion the adventures of Alice with the White Rabbit, the Walrus and the Carpenter, the King, Queen and Knave of Hearts, the Griffin, Dodo, Mock Turtle and all the other characters of Lewis Carroll's beloved fantasy.

The ballet is a highlight of Sonja's newest 20th Century-Fox picture, "My Lucky Star," in which she stars with Richard Greene. Now at the Capitol Theatre, the film was directed by Roy Del Ruth.

Don Ameche At Columbia

Wells Fargo express, one of the most romantic names in the winning of the west, again supplies the theme for an action-crammed adventure film.

Smith Ballew, singing cowboy of radio and screen, revives the more thrilling aspects of the transport organization in "Panamint's Bad Man," 20th Century-Fox release now at the Columbia Theatre.

Ballew is cast as a Deputy Government arshal assigned to break up the stagecoach hold-ups which have disrupted the Wells Fargo service.

"Breaking the Ice" Dominion Booking

The manufacture of hit tunes is by all odds the most unpredictable phase of the making of motion pictures; yet tunes in a film production are as vital to its welfare as story and good acting. Recognizing this fact, the makers of "Breaking the Ice," coming to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow, decided to eliminate as far as possible gambling from movie music, and so selected composers who had produced hits of world wide popularity.

Frank Churchill, who collaborated in the writing of the tunes in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," composed three of the catchy numbers which Bobby Breen sings in the picture. The lyrics for them were written by Paul Webster.

These numbers, which seem destined to reach the top in musical honors, are: "Happy As a Lark," "Put Your Heart In a Song" and "The Sunny Side of Things.'

ATLAS THEATRE

Judy Garland makes her first "grown-up" appearance in "Love Finds Andy Hardy," which is now showing at the Atlas Theatre. After playing the part of a young girl in five pictures, the youthful singing star not only appears in an evening gown, especially created for her by Dolly Tree, but has a hairdress for the first time in her screen career. In the new adventures of the Hardy Family, she is allowed to grow up for one night, reverting to her girlish role immediately afterwards.

PLAZA THEATRE

Hedy Lamaar plays one of the two feminine roles opposite Chas. Boyer in "Algiers," the picture showing at the Plaza Theatre, which will mark her debut on the screen. The other feminine lead is taken by Sigrid Gurie.

"Four Men and a Prayer" Returns

It's a colossal cast!" said Director John Ford as he measured his height against the stalwarts who play the four brothers in "Four Men and a Prayer," 20th Century-Fox romantic drama featuring Loretta Young, now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

All four stand six feet or better.

Richard Greene measures six feet, one inch, as does David Niven. Rugged, athletic George Sanders is the tallest of the three, recording a six-foot-three on the chart.

The smallest member of the quartette of screen brothers is William Henry, who stands a mere six feet.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg futures advanced more than a cent today in sympathy with strength of outside markets and large Canadian wheat export sales. Prices closed 1⅛ to 1¼ cents higher, October 61⅞, November 61⅛, December 61½ and May 64⅞ to 65.

Canadian export sales placed at 2,000,000 bushels did not stir buying activity in the pit but was a factor in the strong undertone of the market. Concern was shown over the persisting European political uncertainties.

Western Canada's wheat movement reached the highest volume since August 1 beginning of the crop year. Western Canada's marketings yesterday totaled 7,027,000 bushels compared with only 1,532,000 bushels a year ago.

Liverpool pushed up ⅝ to 1⅜d. Buenos Aires was 1⅛ to ⅞ cent higher at noon and Chicago averaged about a cent higher.

Cash wheat demand was slow with spreads for top northern grades improving as much as a cent. Coarse grains averaged a cent higher in sympathy with wheat.

CHICAGO (AP) — Immense export purchases in Canada, together with renewed nervousness over European political uncertainties, lifted the Chicago wheat market 1⅝ cents a bushel today.

Late estimates were that more than 4,000,000 bushels of wheat from Canada had been bought for overseas shipment. According to some reports, the Canadian purchases were apparently linked in greater or less degree with governmental emergency plans abroad.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ¾ to 1⅞ cents up compared with yesterday's finish; December 64⅛, May 65⅛ to 65¼; corn unchanged to ⅝ higher, September 50⅞ to 51, December 49½ to 49⅝, and oats showing ⅜ decline to ¼ advance.

Light Selling

NEW YORK (AP)—a minor swing to the selling side today eliminated some of the stock market's gains scored on the preceding three-day rally, but dealings shrank to the smallest in two weeks while Wall Street awaited the next turn of events in Europe.

Caution increased again all along the trading fronts as traders watched the aftermath of the British-French plan for dismemberment of Czeshoslovakia. The hurricane disaster along the northeastern seaboard also was rated a factor in the shrinkage of speculative activity, although attention still was focused mainly on the European stage.

Selling was too light to make deep inroads into the wide gains piled up this week and most stocks dropped only fractions to a point or so, with a few showing wider losses.

Transactions approximated 500,000 shares, compared with nearly 3,000,000 in one day at the height of the recent selling on fear of war.

Bonds sagged with stocks, but wheat once more went counter to the security markets. Wheat at Chicago finished up ¾ to 1⅜ cents a bushel. Corn was unchanged to ⅝ cents higher. Cotton near the close was 20 to 30 cents a bale lower.

At mid-afternoon, the British pound was $4.80½, off 2½ cents, the French franc lost .08⅛ of a cent at 2.69¾ cents.

Another wide break in Czech obligations was recorded in the English dollar bond list.

LOSSES GENERAL

TORONTO (CP) — While awaiting a clearing of the European political atmosphere, Toronto market sold off a little today and all index groups registered losses. Only about 525,000 shares changed hands.

Nickel, Noranda and Smelters were down 1 to 1¾, Waite Amulet 25 and smaller losses showed for Sudbury Basin, Sherritt, Falconbridge and Aldermac. Eldorado weakened about 10.

Losses were limited to about a half for Lake Shore, Hollinger and Buffalo-Ankerite. The setback was around 15 for Bralorne, Kerr-Addison, Hard Rock, Macleod-Cockshutt and Macassa.

Steels, utilities, foods, papers and senior oils took the downward course.

Calgary-Edmonton registered a 12-cent decline. Recessions of 3 to 7 were boarded by Anglo-Canadian, Okalta and Home Oil. Some cheaper western oils weakened slightly.

Five Famous Poets

IV—JOHN KEATS

A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

With those words John Keats started one of his famous poems, "Endymion." More than a century has passed since the poem was written, but the opening line has become a fairly common saying, and it is more truthful than many common sayings.

John Keats

Keats was only 22 when he wrote "Endymion." Born in London, he was the son of the keeper of a livery stable. During his boyhood, his father was killed in an accident—a fall while riding. His dearly-loved mother died of tuberculosis not long afterward.

John became an orphan, but his parents left money with which he could go on with his education. The dreamy, gentle-hearted youth finished work at a lower school, then studied to be a surgeon.

In a London hospital he learned many things needed for a surgeon's work, but he gave up the idea of going into the field of medicine. He wanted to be a poet, not a doctor! We have only one record of his doing anything in this line in later years—one day he hurried to help a man who had fallen. Finding that the man's leg was broken, he set the bones, and we are told that he did it "in masterly fashion."

After taking care of the injured man, Keats said to a friend, "I was glad to help him, but it would be a dreadful thing to be a surgeon and see so much suffering." Those words show us something about his nature.

After "Endymion" was published, Keats set out on a walking trip through Great Britain with a friend named George Brown. They enjoyed the beauties of the English countryside, saw the Falls of Lodore, and climbed Ben Nevis, the highest mountain in Scotland, also higher than any hill or mountain in England or Wales. Ben Nevis rises less than a mile, but on its northeastern slope is a precipice with a drop of 1,500 feet.

During the walking trip, Keats and his friend talked a great deal about poetry, and such poets as Spenser and Milton. The lovely sights of nature which they saw led Keats to write certain of his later poems.

Keats had only a few more years to live. The same disease which had taken the life of his mother fell to his lot. He wrote another book of poems, then went to Italy. There, in the city of Rome, he died. He had spent only 25 years and four months in the world which seemed to him to contain so much beauty.

When he went to Italy, Keats left behind the girl he loved, Fanny Brawne. He wrote about her in some of his poems. A friend went with him to Italy, a young man named Severn. On his death bed, Keats looked at the sad face of Severn and whispered, "Do not be afraid."

HOROSCOPE

Friday, September 23, 1938

Conflicting planetary aspects are seen in the horoscope for today. According to astrology the morning hours are fairly fortunate.

As the autumnal equinox occurs but a few hours before the new moon on this date when the sun enters Libra, astrologers read many strange portents in the stars.

Mercury, besieged by Mars and Neptune in the seventh house, seems to presage serious international complications. Plotting, double-dealing and duplicity among European powers may be expected, with Britain a common object of hostility. Falling revenues and diminishing exports will cause serious problems in London.

Canada and the United States should enjoy good business through the autumn. Prosperity for western cities as well as for those of the eastern seaboard is prophesied.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of trials. Expenses may be greater than income for many. Secret marriages are foretold by astrologers.

Children born on this day probably will be imaginative as well as practical. Subjects of this sign of Libra are usually lovers of beauty and order.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a boy of 20, living on a farm. I love animals and to see things grow, but my ambition is to own a farm of my own some day. I don't have much spending money, and the girls think me queer because I don't give them good times and take them about much. But if I ever get that farm I will have to save my money. Now my problem is this: If I save my money now, will I curse myself the remainder of my life for not having had a good time when I was young, and there were lots of pretty girls, even if I never got out of debt later on? WILBERT.

Answer: I think there is a lot more chance of your cursing yourself later on, Wilbert, if you spend your money on girls and good times now, than there will be if you save it to get a start in life. Nobody ever regrets having money in the bank and being prosperous. And you needn't worry about the pretty girl supply giving out. That's one crop that never fails.

Every poor boy has to make a choice between present pleasure and future goods. If he spends all that he makes as he goes along on girls and parties and payments on a car, he will never get anywhere, because he will never have any money on which to go into business for himself or get a share in some paying enterprise. He can't even look for a better job because he can't risk being idle with no money to back him. The door of opportunity only opens to a golden key. Thrift is the basis of every fortune, and unless you save when you are young you will be poor when you are old. Whether you are a down-and-outer and living on a dole from the government, or sponging on your children in your old age, or whether you are one of our prominent citizens and living on Easy Street depends absolutely on whether you started out to put a few dimes of your first salary into the savings bank every week or blew in every bit of it on whoopee parties.

You may say that if you have to deny yourself at one end of your life or the other, you'll do it at the latter end. But this is a mistake. Youth is so full of the joy of living, it is such a bunch of thrills in itself, everything is such fun and excitement that it doesn't need to buy its pleasures. But age needs comforts and luxuries and the respect that is given only to the successful to make it endurable.

Aorangi Makes Port

263 Passengers Arrive by Canadian-Australasian Motorliner From South Seas; 73 Disembark Here

Terminating her inward voyage from Australasia, Ms. Aorangi, Capt. T. V. (Mickey) Hill, steamed into the bay at William Head at 11.30 this forenoon and docked about 1 at Pier 2, Rithet docks.

The big Canadian-Australasian motorliner brought in from Australia, New Zealand, the Fijis and Hawaii, a total of 263 passengers, including 157 for overland and 52 overseas.

Seventy-three passengers left the ship here, the majority to take the C.P.R. 4.30 boat to Seattle, en route to destinations in the United States.

Dr. H. Sutcliffe, well-known psychologist, accompanied by his secretary, Miss Dorothy Law, who is known in Victoria, arrived by the Aorangi and expect to remain in the city for several days.

It is possible that Dr. Sutcliffe may lecture here before proceeding to Vancouver.

Other prominent passengers arriving by the motorliner today were: Archbishop H. W. K. Mowll, of Sydney, and Mrs. Mowll, accompanied by Archdeacon S. M. Johnstone, Sydney, en route to Toronto; Charles Lloyd Jones, department store operator of Sydney, and director of Australian National Travel Association; W. Bailey, D. M. Sutherland and P. S. Fraser, officials of Amalgamated Wireless (Asia) Limited, Sydney, en route to New York; J. G. Crawford, chief economist of the Rural Bank of New South Wales, who is proceeding to New York to make an economic study of United States government farm financing and administration, and H. W. Robson and F. Thoneman, members of the Australian debating team which opens a Canadian tour at Vancouver.

The Australian debaters are touring Canada under the management of P. G. Davies, Clyde, Alta., secretary of the National Federation of Canadian University Students.

Capt. Hill reported a good voyage from the South Seas.

Some fog was experienced outside and in the Straits of Juan de Fuca, slowing up the big ship a little.

In the Aorangi's holds was stowed upward of 3,000 tons of Australian and New Zealand products.

The liner cleared about 3 this afternoon for Vancouver.

SALMON PACK SHOWS GAIN

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Salmon pack this season up to September 17 totaled 1,234,230 cases, a gain of 68,562 cases over the total for the corresponding period of last year, according to the official bulletin released today by the chief supervisor of fisheries here.

This year's figure, however, was considerably lower than the total of 1,416,076 cases at the corresponding date in 1936.

Following are 1938 totals for each type of fish with 1937 figures in brackets:

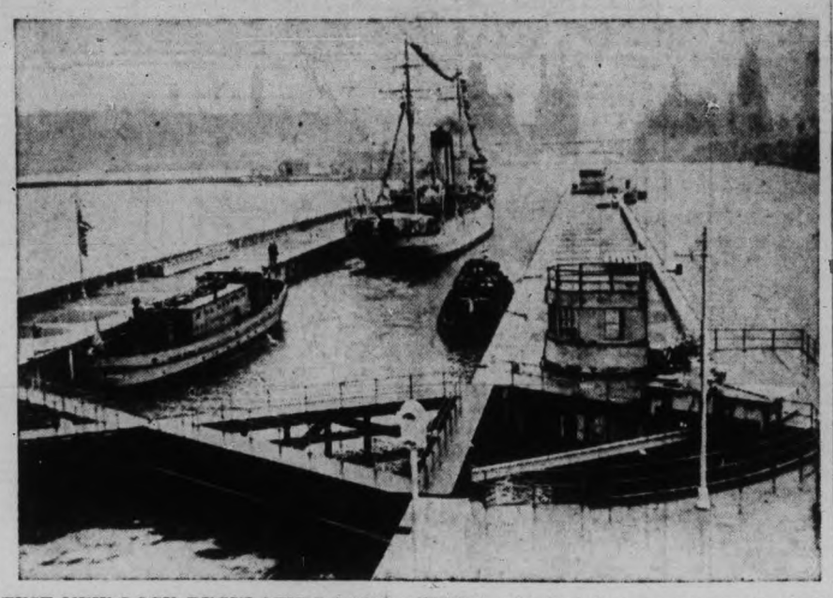
Reduced Fares on Thanksgiving Day

WINNIPEG — Reduced fares between all points in Canada for Thanksgiving Day, Monday, October 10, are announced by the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways, according to a statement from J. B. Parker, secretary of the Canadian Passenger Association.

The long holiday week-end offers special travel inducement for the popular occasion with tickets on sale Friday, October 7, or on Thursday, October 6, where there is no Friday train service, with return limit good leaving Tuesday, October 11. The rate is a fare and a quarter for the round trip. The last of the good-weather week-ends gives indication of general travel across Canada.



TEST NEW LOCK REGULATING LAKE LEVELS—The new lock restricting to 1,500 cubic feet per second the amount of water Chicago takes from Lake Michigan to make possible navigation southward on the Chicago and Illinois rivers was being opened as the U.S. naval reserve training ship Wilmette and the fireboat Fred M. Busse passed through it in the above picture. The 600-foot lock with its 125-ton gates cost $2,500,000. The canal connecting the lake with the river has been a source of controversy since Chicago began taking as much as 10,000 cubic feet a second from the lake, thus reducing the water-level of the entire Great Lakes system.

Air Chief Meets Flaming Death

Major-Gen. O. Westover Had Brilliant Career As U.S. Army Flier

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Maj-Gen. Oscar Westover, chief of the U.S. army air corps, went to a flaming death yesterday in the crash of his airplane.

The general was piloting his own plane. His crew chief, Sergt. Sam Hynes, died with the air leader.

The crash occurred near the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation's plant, not far from the Union Air Terminal.

Watchers on the air terminal had their eyes on the army ship, which was on the way from March Field, Riverside. They were preparing to receive the general. Then they saw the plane flying low, in a glide for a landing. Suddenly it appeared to make a move to climb.

It was within 150 feet of a bungalow court on San Fernando Road.

The engine backfired. There was an explosion, and the craft crashed in flames, setting afire to two buildings.

General Craig said he had no information. Westover was 55 years old. He was born at Bay City, Mich., July 23, 1883, and enlisted in the U.S. army at the age of 18.

A short, stocky, airman, Westover had risen to his job as the army's No. 1 flier after 34 years of service. He flew his own plane and had ratings as a heavier-than-air pilot, airplane observer, lighter-than-air pilot and balloon observer.

Westover was named assistant chief of the air corps in December, 1931, and advanced from Lieutenant-Colonel to Brigadier-General while holding that position.

When President Roosevelt gave the army the task of carrying the U.S. air mail, he was assigned the job of organizing and directing the service.

During the World War, he was a major of the signal corps, but before the war was over was transferred to the air corps as lieutenant-colonel.

How to Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores, or any druggist, a package of Hemroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

That New Home Won't Be Complete ...Without An Extension Telephone

When you move into another house, comfort and convenience are important considerations. Then why not arrange to have an extension telephone installed? If it's a two-storey house, it's a good idea to have that extra telephone upstairs, probably at your bedside. In the kitchen and down in the basement are other places where an extension telephone would be handy.
